CHARGE LAID ON NEW LAW

Test of Department Shops Early Closing Rule Expected in Police Court

The first prosecution under the Department Shops Early Closing By-law which went into effect on November 6, opened in the City Police Court this morning, and indications were that the regulation would be thoroughly tested in the court action.

Fred Spencer was charged under the by-law which provides that department stores must close at 6 o'clock on Saturdays, exclusive of special holiday shopping hours.

Through A. Martin, his counsel, he pleaded not guilty, and Mr. Martin referred to the fact that it was the first prosecution under the new regulation. The by-law, he said, contained several definitions of departmental stores, and he suggested the information should be laid under a definite section of the riuing.

The case was adjourned until next Tuesday for further consideration by counsel.

CANADIANS HOME FROM CONFERENCE

W. M. Birks, Montreal, Sees Great Value in Institute of Pacific Relations

Possibility 1931 Meeting May Be Held in Victoria

Emphasizing the value of round table conferences for the settling of international disagreements, W. M. Birks, of Montreal, a Canadian delegate to the Institute of Pacific Relations Conference in Kyoto, this morning instanced the perfect harmony with which Japanese and Chinese delegates concluded the gathering.

Mr. Birks arrived back from the conference aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia, which docked at 7 o'clock this morning from the Far East. He was accompanied by Mrs. Birks, his daughter Miss L. Birks, and his son, W. N. Birks.

Speaking of the Institute's meeting, Mr. Birks declared the Japanese showed a very refined spirit under some provocation from the Chinese at the parley. They acted admirably, he said.

"Delegations splendidly representative, attended from each of these Far Eastern countries," he added. There were about twenty-five from each nation and though it seemes they came ready to 'throw stones' at each other, they discussed their troubles in a harmonious manner and went away good friends."

200,000 Visit Grave Shrine In One Day

Throngs Seeking Healing at Malden, Massachusetts, Greatly Increase

Malden, Mass., Nov. 18.—The famous Roman Catholic shrines of Our Lady of Lourdes and Sainte Anne de Beaupre are recalled by people here with the ever-increasing pilgrimage of thousands to the sixty-year-old grave of a young priest, Rev. Patrick J. Power.

Two hundred thousand visited the Holy Cross Cemetery yesterday, prominent in the vast throng being Mayor-Elect James M. Curley of Boston, who prayed for the recovery of his sick wife and later returned with her to kneel in a drizzling rain at nightfall.

GROWTH OF NUMBERS

Reputed miraculous cures of physically afflicted during the past weeks have drawn the multitude. On the last Sunday of October 10,000 went to the cemetery, on November 10 ten times that number and during the week days 10,000 to 50,000. On Armistice Day 50,000 gathered.

For years occasional cases of healing had been reported there, but no great demonstrations had followed.

Rubio Will Be New President of Mexico

Mexico City, Nov. 18.—Nineteen persons were killed and more than fifty wounded in nation-wide rioting yesterday which accompanied the overwhelming election of Pascual Ortiz Rubio as President of Mexico. Headquarters of Jose Vasconcelos, candidate of the Anti-Re-Electionist Party, charged that supporters of Ortiz Rubio had taken charge of voting booths and through force and intimidation prevented tens of thousands from voting.

Headquarters of the Revolutionary Party, which supported the candidacy of Ortiz Rubio, replied to-day, denying any but legitimate conditions had prevailed. They explained they had taken charge of voting booths under the Mexican law, which says the first nine voters arriving at a booth shall control it.

Early Morning Fire Destroys Sidney Garage

Sidney Service Station and Two Realty Offices Burned

Ammunition Stock Explodes and Gives Alarm; Loss Over $15,000

Special to The Times

Sidney, Nov. 18.—Fire early yesterday morning destroyed the Sidney Service Station on Beacon Avenue and the adjoining real estate offices of S. Roberts and H. A. McKillican.

The fire, the origin of which is not known, started about 4.30 o'clock in the radio room of the service station, which had been closed since 6 o'clock Saturday. The room was used as general sales room, office and demonstrating parlor. A large quantity of auto accessories, ammunition and a number of radio receivers were in stock.

Explosion of cartridges awakened neighbors who sent in an alarm. The volunteer fire brigade promptly responded, to find the centre of the building a mass of fire.

Two streams of water were played and in a short time the fire was under control. Owing to much oil and other inflammable material in the garage it was difficult to quench the blaze.

CARS REMOVED

With great effort volunteers removed two touring cars, the wrecking car and service car through the rear entrance. The rest of the contents of the building, including a brand new car, were destroyed.

Mr. Roberts was successful in saving most of the contents of his office.

Seagull Inn, a two-story restaurant and boarding house, adjoining the service station, escaped untouched while some outer sheds were partly scorched.

CITY FIREMEN AID

Fire Chief Stewart and two of his men from Victoria arrived and assisted the local men. The Saanich apparatus also arrived but was not needed.

SANTA CLAUS DISCOVERED

WAS MEMBER OF BRITISH COMMONS FORTY-NINE YEARS

T.P. O'Connor Oldest M.P. of Britain Dies

"Father of House of Commons" Succumbs in London at Eighty-one

London, Nov. 18.—Cheered in his last moments by a message of solicitude and sympathy from King George and a blessing from the Pope, Rt. Hon. Thomas Power O'Connor, known as "Tay Pay" and Father of the British House of Commons," died here at 3.16 a.m. to-day. He was eighty-one years old.

Death came as the result of a septic condition in one leg, which ten days ago incapitated the aged parliamentarian and gradually weakened him until Saturday he lapsed into a coma. Most of his last hours were spent in that condition, although he occasionally revived.

He was active until the month of his death, taking a prominent part in parliamentary activities and national policies despite his age. He visited North America early in 1928. Ill-health overtook him soon after, but he insisted on running for his seat in the Commons for the Scotland Division of Liverpool at the last general election, though he had to be wheeled about in an armchair.

"FATHER OF HOUSE"

His mantle as "Father of the House of Commons" now probably will fall on the shoulders of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, who has represented Carnarvon, Wales, only ten years less than Mr. O'Connor represented Liverpool.

CIVIC POLLS TAME AFFAIR IS FORECAST

Contest For Only One of Four Divisions Is Apparent at Present

Council, With Five Vacancies, Has Most Candidates

The civic elections of 1929 give promise of being a tame affair. With less than three weeks to nomination day, there were only fourteen candidates in the field this morning for eleven civic seats. Mayor Anscomb has made a formal declaration of his intention to stand for re-election and his return by acclamation is being generally conceded.

Trustee A. C. Pike said this morning he would enter his name in the aldermanic contest and was preceded by similar announcements on Saturday by Alderman J. L. Mara and Robert Smith.

At the present moment a contest is assured for only one of the four divisions in the city elections, the council poll, where ten candidates are in the field for five seats. Mayor Anscomb and Police Commissioner William White are unopposed for their respective seats. On the School Board four seats are vacant, with only two names put forward as yet, Trustee J. S. McMillan and P. E. George.

REGRET APATHY

Disappointment was being expressed in business circles to-day over the apparent apathy surrounding the choice of a civic administration for 1930. The absence of young men in those named as candidates is particularly marked.

Since the last meeting of the committee information on civic auditoriums in other cities has been secured together with the methods of financing them. Although no definite recommendation has been made by the city as to whether an auditorium should be a civic or private enterprise, the opinion has been freely expressed that there is a need of such a building in Victoria.

The committee is headed by C. P. Hill with R. W. Mayhew, H. C. Holmes, A. A. Meharey, W. A. Jameson, A. Carmichael, H. M. Diggon, W. H. M. Haldane, H. Kent, Alex. Stewart and Frank Waring as members.

Frosty Week Is Predicted

No Change Expected in Weather For Three or Four Days, Says F. N. Denison

Continued fair weather with frosty nights was predicted by F. Napier Denison in making his report this morning. No sign of rain for the next three or four days was evident, he stated, adding that despite the three-quarter inch precipitation on Saturday, the year was still far below par.

Last night a light frost set in, lowering the temperature on the ground on top of Gonzales Hill to 30.5 degrees. A further drop was noticed at lower levels away from the sea, where the mercury slipped to 27 degrees.

To-morrow morning the house roofs will again be covered with white frost, Mr. Denison stated. Little change in conditions is expected locally for a few days.

On the prairie the weather is turning colder and the thermometers are expected to drop below zero to-morrow.

Well-known Victorian and Launch Teehee Missing Since September 4

Superannuated Civic Employee Disappears on Fishing Trip

Joseph Whitford Ackerman, missing since September 4, when he left Victoria in his launch Teehee to fish at Cowichan Gap, is being sought by Provincial Police at the request of his daughter, Mrs. Jack Smith, 20 Lewis Street, with whom Mr. Ackerman resided.

The missing man is sixty-three years of age and was a member of the outside service of the city until superannuated six months ago.

He is dark, with hair greyed at the temples, thick set, with round shoulders, and is five feet six inches tall.

For many years he was a seafaring man, having been a mate on sealing vessels sailing from Victoria.

Beyond occasional attacks of dizziness, resulting from an illness suffered last year, Mr. Ackerman was in good health.

His launch Teehee is a staunch vessel thirty-five feet in length, painted green with a wide upper stripe of white. She has three portholes, two masts, a pilot house and is powered with a Vivian twin engine of twelve horsepower.

British Government Considers Hoover's Proposal For Supply Ships

London, Nov. 18—The British Government announced in the House of Commons to-day that President Hoover's proposal for the immunity of food ships in war time would be carefully examined.

Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson told a questioner the Government would not make any diplomatic reply to the suggestion in the President's Armistice Day speech, because Mr. Hoover had explained he did not intend his words to be considered official proposals to any nation.

"In these circumstances no answer is called for by His Majesty's Government," said Mr. Henderson. "I may say, however, that the President's proposal will, of course, be carefully examined by His Majesty's Government."

CONFERENCE PROBLEMS

RADIO NEW AID FOR PERSONS ABOARD THE LARGEST PLANE

Altenrhein, Switzerland, Nov. 18.—The giant flying boat DOX yesterday conducted a successful radiotelephony test in communication with the radio station at Stuttgart. The plane while in flight called the shipyard here, which relayed the message over an ordinary telephone wire to Stuttgart, where the call was broadcast. It was picked up by all German stations and at Berne, Zurich, London and Vienna.

Persons aboard the plane were even able to understand the return messages because special amplifiers overcame the roar of the twelve motors of the ship.

STEAM PLANT IS USED AS HYDRO POWER FALLS OFF

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—Because of unprecedented low water in the lakes supplying the British Columbia Electric Railway Company's Stave, Alouette and Buntzen power plants, the company has been forced since last summer to operate the emergency steam plants here to conserve water power.

The steam plant started to operate steadily during the long summer drought, when the snow on the mountain became exhausted and the lake levels began to drop. Since then the lakes have never recovered their normal levels.

It is expected, however, that conditions will return to normal about the beginning of next year, due to winter rains and snow. The levels are rising now, with an intermittent rain fall during the past two weeks in the mountains.

Company officials report the supply of power to consumers has not been affected. The hydro plants, with the emergency equipment, have been able to supply enough energy to meet requirements.

Police said Flanagan was one of several brothers known to the East Side as racketeers. One brother, Thomas (Turk) Flanagan, was killed some time ago on First Avenue.

Home of Santa Claus Is Discovered By Victoria Times Arctic Explorers

Leader of Daring Expedition Radios He Has Arrived Before Great White Castle of Famous Old Saint and Hopes to Get Remarkable Pictures to Prove the Burning Question of His Reality.

At Top of the World: Santa's Castle.

By CAPT. F. E. KLEINSCHMIDT
Special Correspondent to The Times and Head of Expedition to Home of Santa Claus

By Wireless

Have found the home of Santa Claus, and have just been received in his castle. Sending this message from Santa's big wireless station. Details following later.

F. E. KLEINSCHMIDT.

The Times, eager to make little boys and girls happy, sent Captain Kleinschmidt on an expedition to go to the Far North to find the home of Santa Claus. He was outfitted with two aeroplanes and at the farthest north Eskimo village secured reindeer for his final dash to the Pole. He was accompanied by his wife, a mechanic, wireless operator, cameraman, "Red" Garland and several Eskimos. They faced many harships and dangers The party fights off a wolf attack and battles with "Layluk," the North Wind, and now we are happy to announce in this chapter that The Victoria Daily Times expedition has been a success and the brave Captain and his party are safe at Santa's castle. We know nothing about Santa Claus except that he comes south at Christmas time, slides down the chimney and leaves presents.

"We expect to hear wonderful tales of the good old Saint, what he does in his home aind how he spends the balance of the year. Children, do not miss the following wireless messages, as they will appear in The Daily Times.

SANTA SENDS A MESSAGE

In my last lengthy message I told how we had met one of Santa's little men, and how Jimmy Aide had promised to talk with Santa, and return with a message from him if he would receive us.

Morning came only too suddenly for our sleepy party. All night Mrs. K. dreamed of little gnomes and fairies dancing around the campfire. When the Eskimos woke us up another startling incident was before us. There all dressed up with his whiskers half covered with snow and ice stood Jimmie Aide, the dwarf who had appeared so suddenly the night before and who left under orders to send a message to Santa Claus.

BREAKFAST READY

Jimmie Aide, true to his name, had not neglected to make himself useful. He had heaped great loads of moss and willows on the fire, and flames were crackling and leaping, casting beautiful shadows on the snow surface. We were surprised to find breakfast all ready for us, coffee and bacon and eggs. Also there were many items of food that we had not brought along. There were sweetmeats, cookies, jams and jellies. We could scarcely believe our eyes and Pa-tu-nuk and Kitsenna were even more astonished. Never had the Eskimos seen or tasted such delicacies. The coffee was even better than Mrs. K. expected, and that was quite a compliment to the dwarf. "Jimmie Aide," she shouted, "you are a wonderful cook."

"Did you hear from Santa?" Mrs. K. asked anxiously.

A gleam darted from the dwarf's eyes. "Of course I did," was his answer.

Excitement ran through the crowd, who pressed around the little whiskered dwarf. Even the reindeer seemed to know that something unusual had happened and they snorted and scampered around.

"What did he say?" I queried.

"Yes, please tell us at once," Mrs. K. begged him.

"Be calm, my good friends from the far South and you shall hear what the great Santa Claus said," the dwarf replied, holding up his hand for silence.

"First I was called upon to say that you were from Ottawa and were on an expedition for The Victoria Times.

"That seemed to please Santa. He asked how many persons were in your patry. I told him, then he seemed to be relieved, and asked how you fared with the wolves the night he used his magic lights on them and scared the beasts away. I assured Santa that you were grateful to him for saving your lives He also mentioned that he noticed you were battling with Layluk, the North Wind, one night, and he was greatly elated that the monster was not successful in driving you back or hurting you. What Santa was most interested in, of course, was the little boys and girls of Vancouver Island and the attempt of The Victoria Times newspaper to assist Santa in making all the boys and girls happy. I told him you had many letters for him and that were he to open his great castle gates, you would have a full report to make.

TO VISIT HIS CASTLE

"I gave him your name, Captain, and he stated that he had heard of you. Of course Santa stated he had never received a human being in his castle, but that in this case he would make arrangements to see you and to make your stay a pleasant one.

He sends a special greeting to Mrs. K., and says he will grant the wish she made before starting on the expedition, that she might have tea with Santa Claus. Santa Claus is such a kind-hearted man that I would not be surprised if you tell him how much the children of Vancouver Island love him that he will even allow you to take pictures of him in his castle.

"Now, to my mind that is saying a lot, but when I mentioned it, he said he would consider it and let you know later." You can imagine how delighted we all were to hear that the great man would actually welcome us into his castle.

"Did you tell Santa," I asked Jimmie Aide, "that we want to give him all the names of the boys and girls who read The Times?" "I did," the dwarf replied, "but that was not needed, for Santa Claus already knows their names and has been keeping a close check on their behavior. Most boys and girls on Vancouver Island, he says will receive gifts, and a few who have disobeyed their parents will be given a few more days to overcome their black marks. I know you will find Santa a great man" Jimmie Aide continued, "for in all the world there is only one Santa Claus.

TO ACT AS GUIDE

"I have special instructions how we are to approach the palace and I will act as your guide.'

"You are so very kind and considerate, Jimmie Aide," Mrs. K. said, "and we will never forget yotir kindness."

"Neved mind about me," the dwarf chattered. "Just wait until you meet Santa Claus and his fairy castle his great workshop, and all the gnomes and fairies. You may have been all over the world from one sea to another, Captain, but you have never seen anything until you see the greatest gift shop in the world.

"You see Santa is the most generous man in all the world. His gloves are tipped with charity, and when he soars over the world on Christmas Eve there will be showers of gifts."

You may imagine it did not take us very long to break camp, hitch up our reindeer, who seemed eager to be off, for the last dash to the castle of Santa Claus.

We were in high spirits and confident that the good old Saint would accord us a royal welcome.

Mrs. K. invited Jimmie Aide to sit on the sleigh beside her, but with a hope and skip he was up on the back of Trouncer, our leader. The reindeer gave a snort, shook his antlers, and humped his back, and then started to bolt for a distant peak. However, we soon calmed Trouncer and the teams settled down to a steady gallop, but every now and then Jimmie Aide, perched high on the deer's back, would point out the direction and show us the nearest route to North Poleville without losing any time.

The deer seemed to know they were nearing the end of their journey and began to lengthen their stride, just as boys do when they know dinner is ready and a steaming hot mince pie is waiting for them at home.

GAZING ON KINGDOM OF SANTA

Guided by Jimmie, the dwarf, we came to a small hill or slight rise in the vast plain. Suddenly, just at the crest of the hill, he pulled hard on the reins and called "Whoa" to the reindeer.

For the first time in the history of man, human beings were gazing upon the kingdom of Santa Claus.

Miles ahead lay a beautiful tundra, and in the centre of the plain there stood a glistening palace. The palace raised its steeples almost as high as the towering mountains to the right and left, and as the Northern Lights shone upon the ice, myriads of beautiful colors were reflected like sparkling gems. The castle at long range was awsome and inspiring. Never before in all my travels over the world have I witnessed such a sight. Birds, snow-white, soared overhead, and out to the left of the castle stretching as far as eye could see were millions of dots, reindeer that were grazing in herds. Not only ourselves, but even the Eskimos were almost overcome with joy.

"Look!" Mrs. K. pointed, "see the beautiful castle and the reindeer, and all this great mass of snow and ice, isn't it a beautiful sight? How sorry I am that every little boy and girl who reads The Times cannot be here to share this great pleasure. We must take some motion pictures of this very spot so that we can send them to Victoria by wireless to be shown before Christmas. Wonderful, marvelous! Imagine us standing here at the outer edge of the greatest gift-giving territory in all the world. God surely has been good to Santa Claus. Pa-tu-nuk and Kitsenna, our Eskimo friends, were equally as enthusiastic, but as is known the little brown men are not disposed to shout and make merry in happy moments as we white people do. While we were all standing marveling at the sights before us, Jimmie Aide shouted "Let's be off," and he picked up the leins and called to Trouncer. The reindeer started with a bolt and soon our party was within hailing distance of Santa's ice palace. Trouncer and the other reindeer streaked toward the castle. Little Jimmie Aide certainly needed all his strength to keep upon Trouncer's back.

Coming closer to the castle we saw hundreds of little gnomes standing on the parapets and the great balcony leading around two sides of the castle. They were waving and cheering, and we heard their voices above the clattering of the reindeer hoofs. We saw

World Noted Leaders Here From Orient

International Relations Authorities Return From Conference in Japan

Chinese and Japanese Fears Over Manchuria Relieved By Discussion They Say

Noted leaders of international thought, including Professor Charles Howland of Yale University, for two years League of Nations representative in Greece; Professor Joseph P. Chamberlain, of the chair of Political Economy, Columbia University, New York, and Dr. John Mackay, of Manitoba College, formerly principal of Westminster Hall, Vancouver, reached here to-day on the Empress of Asia from Japan, where they have been attending the conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

With the party was Miss H. Roelofs of New York, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., who also attended the conference.

WESTERN IDEAS SPREADING IN CHINA

Bishop W. N. Ainsworth of Macon, Ga., who, in charge of the mission work in China for the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, during the last four years, has presided over the largest diocese of Methodism in the world, was another prominent passenger. For years he has been a close friend of Asa Candler, head of the Coco Cola enterprises. This is the fourth trip across the Pacific the bishop has made in four years. He said that Christianity and western ideas are spreading fast in China and that he is very optimistic over the future of China. Traveling with him are Mrs. Ainsworth and Mrs. Ethel Jackson.

CHINESE SHIPPING KING COMES

Also on board was D. Wong, head of the Wong Ming Company, who is known as the Robert Dollar of China, controlling the immense coastal steamship services between Shanghai and Hongkong. He is on his way to Germany to order new ships for his Oriental services. He said that despite all reports of unsettlement in the Orient, business is progressing in China and the shipping business is very profitable and increasing by leaps and bounds.

VALUABLE SILK CARGO

There were two missionaries returning to their homes in the East from China, Rev. W. Christie and Rev. W. P. Fraser.

The Empress brought thirty-nine first class passengers, fifty-seven second and 172 in the third. Officers of the boat said it was the smoothest trip across they had had in a year.

The vessel also brought a $3,000,000 shipment of silk, which is being rushed by fast through express to New York.

TROUBLE OVER MANCHURIA EASED

Dr. Mackay said that altogether there were more than 200 attending the Pacific Institute Conference. They were from all nations interested in the Pacific and its problems, with forty-three from Canada. The rest of the Canadian and American delegates are spending some time traveling in the Orient, he said, while some will be returning by the Suez and across the Atlantic. Dr. Mackay attended the previous conference which was held in Honolulu a couple of years ago.

"The chief immediate achievement of the conference just over is the better understanding brought about between the Chinese and Japanese," Dr. Mackay said. "The Manchurian problem was the biggest question discussed and it concerned chiefly these two countries. Chinese and Japanese delegates discussed this problem with recognition of each other's difficulties and they formed their own committees to continue the investigations and discussions."

EVERYTHING ABOVE BOARD

"The discussion at the conference was very full, frank and above board," said Professor Howland of Yale. "Every problem was tackled by opening it up in a full way, no matter how delicate it may have been considered, and discussing it in a frank manner.

"As an indication of the good the conference has done in the way of bettering the relations between the Chinese and Japanese and bringing about a better understanding over the Manchurian question and lessening the suspicions, the leading Japanese and Chinese were seen before the conference had ended having their meals together and out walking discussing their difficulties in an earnest and amicable way.

EXTRA-TERRITORIALITY ALSO PROBED

"The question of extra-territoriality was also taken up by the conference. How thoroughly this was taken up can be judged by the fact that the conference asked the chairman of the Shanghai Settlement to come up to discuss the matter. This he did.

"The whole conference was characterized by earnest research work on the part of the large number of scholars of all races who gathered and sought to get to the bottom of all problems."

SEES CHINA AS MONEYMAKER

Before the conference opened, Professor Howland spent six weeks traveling in China to become familiar with conditions.

"Despite the political disturbances, business is doing well," Professor Howland said. "If they once hit on a form of government that will stick, they will do well, as they are industrious and moneymakers.

"As for Japanese exclusion, the complaint of the Japanese is that they object to being classed as an inferior race because their skin is yellow, and being excluded because of that. They do not object to a restrictive quota, no matter how small it may be, but absolute exclusion on racial grounds they consider needlessly insulting."

Victoria Men At Ceremony

Stephen Jones, proprietor of the Dominion Hotel, represented British Columbia as speaker for this province at the meeting of hotel men and others at Bellingham Saturday for the opening of the new wing of the Leopold Hotel.

Mr. Jones gave an effective talk, in which he dealt with the great strides of the tourist business in this Province and the Pacific northwest generally, and the excellent hotel accommodation offered travelers.

George I. Warren, Victoria and Island Publicity Commissioner, was another Victoria representative at the ceremony. Others from British Columbia were M. Burns, assistant manager of the Vancouver Hotel; K. De Morist, manager of the Devonshire Hotel, Vancouver; W. Willoughby, manager of the Georgian Hotel, Vancouver; F. Rowe, manager of the Grovsenor Hotel, Vancouver; D. Nicholas, manager of the Grouse Mountain Chalet; N. D. Anderson, president of Harrison Hot Springs; Mme. Gargaret De Cruisemmi, manager of Harrison Hot Springs, and Charles H. Webster, Vancouver Publicity Commissioner.

Frank Hale, president of the Washington State Hotelmen's Association, congratulated Henry Shupp, Schmidt Bros. and their associates on the fine hotel which the Leopold made with its addition.

NINE MONTHS FOR CHINAMAN

Chung Gain Found Guilty on Charge of Possessing Opium

Sentence of nine months' imprisonment and a fine of $100 was imposed on Chung Gain, Chinese, convicted on a charge of having opium in his possession, by Magistrate George Jay in a judgment handed down in City Police Court this morning.

The magistrate gave a lengthy judgment on the case, reviewing the evidence of both sides in detail. He concluded that some packets of yen shee, found on premises on Fisgard Street, belonged to the accused. Owing to the small amount found, the sentence would be lighter than would otherwise have been the case, he said.

In default of payment of the $100 fine and $7.50 costs, the accused will have to serve an additional three months' imprisonment, the court ruled.

W. C. Moresby, K.C., appeared for the defence, and C. L. Harrison for the prosecution.

PRETTY BRIDES ARRIVE FOR HINDUS HERE

Eighteen years ago Rang Singh and Bharnam Sing came to Canada from India. They started in the millwood business in Vancouver, and have prospered well.

Recently, both decided to have wives. So they sent to India and this morning two eighteen-year-old brides-to-be arrived here on the Empress of Asia. Their names are Naseeb Kor and Jamninder Kor. The two Singhs came over from Vancouver to meet their brides here. The meeting took place before a group of customs and immigration officials as soon as the liner docked. There was no kissing on the part of the heavily-bearded bridegrooms, but the dark eyes of the dusky little Eastern girls flashed and their continual smiles showed gleaming gold-filled teeth. They wore long western dresses below their ankles and bandannas over their heads.

The two Singhs went on to Vancouver with the two Kor girls and tonight there are to be great celebrations at the Hindu Temple, following by feasting, as the double wedding is to be celebrated.

Fine Is $300 On Liquor Charge

Pleading guilty to a charge of unlawfully keeping liquor for sale at premises on Courtney Street, Robert Laughton was fined $300 in the City Police Court this morning with the option of three months' imprisonment.

Chief of Police John Fry, who visited the premises of the accused yesterday in company with other officers, exhibited to the court various liquors seized, including rum and beer.

THE SOCKEYE SALMON TREATY

NOW THAT PREMIER KING HAS DISCUSSED the sockeye salmon treaty with Premier Tolmie, and has been assured that the Government of this province wants Parliament to pass it in its present form as quickly as possible, the treaty will be reintroduced at the next session of the House of Commons and passed.

Recognizing that this treaty directly involved an important industry in this province, and that its terms had been approved by the British Columbia Government, the Federal Cabinet, of course—having authorized its signature—was ready to put it through Parliament at the last session of the House; but it decided to wait when all the Conservative members from British Columbia demanded that the treaty either be radically amended or killed outright. Eastern members of the House of Commons naturally could not understand the reason for this opposition in the face of the pressing appeals from Premier Tolmie and his colleagues here for immediate passage of the pact as it stood. The fact was that Mr. Bennett and his supporters from this province were playing politics in the interests of a clique in Toronto.

When the House of Commons convenes early next year the members will have the following statement from Premier Tolmie for their guidance:

As I have already made clear more than once, we have studied this treaty, we have sought the advice of fishery and legal experts, and we believe that it absolutely preserves Canadian rights; that it is designed to rebuild a great Canadian industry, worth millions of dollars a year to this province.

It has been suggested that it gives control of Canadian territory to an international commission. This is entirely wrong. Nothing can be done to Canadian territory. No action can be taken in regard to the Fraser River without the consent of the Canadian Government. The commission set up under the treaty has power only to advise on such matters, its powers of control being in regard to fishing only. To suggest that the treaty infringes on Canadian rights I believe is entirely wrong.

We want the treaty passed simply to restore fisheries which were once the greatest of their kind in the world, and until we see some better way of accomplishing this result, which we don't, we are for the treaty.

Dr. Tolmie's statement—made public after he had discussed the matter with Mr. Mackenzie King—should indicate that this question is not a political one. The object of the treaty, in substance the same as the two agreements signed by Canada in 1909 and 1919, is the preservation of a British Columbia industry that experts assert should be worth $30,000,000 annually. With a complete understanding of its economic significance, and convinced that no British Columbia interest would be jeopardized by its operation, the Tolmie Government stands by its demand for approval of the treaty by the Parliament of Canada.

WHY NOT PAY THEM?

NO TRUE PHILOSOPHER, OF COURSE, could possibly be disturbed by anything that might develop in connection with college football; so it is hardly surprising to find the eminent Dr. Will Durant greeting the recent Carnegie Foundation report with an amused, "Well, what of it?"

Dr. Durant, far from being shocked by the disclosures in that now famous report, remarks that he can see no reason on earth why a college should not pay a star football player. To begin with, he asserts bluntly that intercollegiate football is quite as apt to teach its participants something as the average course of study in classrooms.

"It is too bad," he says, "that there is a general feeling that those who indulge in college sports are wasting their time, because, really, athletics require quite as much grey matter, and often more, than the most involved academic course. When a football player," he goes on, "weaves his way through a field of opponents for a touchdown his mind has not been a blank."

Then he takes up the question of [illegible] football players. "I had a scholarship [illegible] went to college, and no one thought there was anything irregular about that," he says. "I received the scholarship because I answered correctly test questions that had been written on paper. Now, if a boy plays an unusually good game of football, is there any reason why a college should not assist him through school? I do not believe there is. To what better use could money taken in at a football game be put than to assist players on the team in completing their educations?"

A good deal of ineffectual indignation has been aroused by the Carnegie report; but, really, Dr. Durant's suggestion is far from being humorous. Some American colleges have turned football into a big business. In such matters as ballyhoo, gate receipts, crowds and general interest aroused, it in no way differs from such a business as, for instance, big league baseball. That being the case, it is hardly out of the way to suggest that the football players ought to be paid, quite openly, for what they do.

To be sure, it may be said that professionalism of that kind is out of keeping with the whole theory of undergraduate sport. But so are the monster stadiums, the great gate receipts, the skillfully arranged publicity. Football is no longer an undergraduates' diversion; it is a large-scale business venture. Why not treat it as such, openly?

Dr. Durant's proposal is not as far-fetched as it sounds.

DAIRY PRODUCTS INCREASE

THE TOTAL OUTPUT OF DAIRY products in Canada since 1921 has continued to rise. From year to year there have been fluctuations in the relative amounts of the different products manufactured due to variations in market values of these commodities, but on the whole the increase has been steady. Naturally milk tends to go into that line of manufacturing most profitable to producers, so that the total production of milk is the index of the state of the industry as a whole. The following table gives the production from 1921 to 1927, which is the latest year for which figures are available.

Total Milk Production

| Year | Milk lb. | Fat Equivalent lb. | Value |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1921 | 9,863,324,358 | 345,216,351 | $205,436,350 |
| 1922 | 9,847,932,218 | 344,677,224 | 197,717,345 |
| 1923 | 11,765,564,229 | 411,794,743 | 233,629,038 |
| 1924 | 12,045,078,272 | 421,577,734 | 234,859,368 |
| 1925 | 12,589,076,384 | 438,867,661 | 256,901,705 |

These figures are made up from the milk equivalent of the creamery butter, cheese and other manufactured products, and the milk and cream exported, the quantities of which are definitely known, together with the estimated quantity of milk and cream used for direct consumption and that which goes into dairy butter. Because of these estimations, which can be checked only in the decennial census years, strict accuracy is not claimed for the yearly totals, but as the same basis of calculation is used every year it is believed that increases shown from year to year are fairly reliable.

Whereas, as shown above, the increase in the quantity of milk produced has been steady and substantial, it has not been large enough during the last two years to meet the greatly increased home consumption of milk and its products. These home requirements in 1928 exceeded those of 1924 by the equivalent of 70,000,000 pounds of butter, or 143,000,000 pounds of cheese.

The price of Canadian cheese has been relatively high because of the premium which it brings in the world's market over any other cheese of the same type. There has been a remarkable improvement in the quality of Canadian cheese in recent years under the grading system. In 1928 the percentage of first-grade cheese for all of Canada was 93.1, as compared with seventy-eight per cent in 1923, the year in which the grading system was inaugurated. The percentage of cheese made in central and western Ontario which reached the first grade in 1928 was ninety-seven. This improvement in quality, coupled with a new demand in the Old Country for high-grade Cheddar cheese (the type made in Canada), owing to the rapid decrease in the production of this type of cheese in England and Scotland, has placed Canadian cheese in the most favorable position it has occupied since the export trade began in 1886. There was a substantial increase in the output of cheese in 1928 as compared with the previous year.

SHOULD HAVE ANOTHER TERM

IT IS ALTOGETHER FITTING THAT Mayor Anscomb should have another term as the chief executive of this city. He has worked hard since he assumed the responsibilities of his office, he has given liberally of his time without regard to his own personal convenience, and on public occasions he has been an admirable representative of the community.

One term is not long enough for the development of important policies, and nobody discovers this more quickly than a mayor, who invariably finds it necessary to consider a campaign for a second year before he is half-way through his first year. Actually the mayor's term of office should be two years instead of one year.

PASTEURIZATION SAVES LIVES

HOW IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC is the process of pasteurizing milk? Everybody's Health, a magazine issued by the Minnesota Public Health Association, gives the answer—an answer that appears to possess considerable force.

The journal in question quotes the health commissioner of New York City, Dr. Wynne, as saying that in the last decade the pasteurization of milk in New York City alone had saved the lives of 180,000 babies.

Dr. Wynne points out that the hot summer months used to take fearful toll of small children. Now that the milk supply is kept pure, however, the summer months actually have a lower mortality than the winter months. This looks like a good case in favor of pasteurization.

THE EMPIRE'S FUTURE

The London Evening Standard

There are probably some 25,000,000,000 acres of land within our imperial boundaries which are available for development. In Canada alone barely one-tenth of the possible soil is actually in use, and there is much the same story to be told all over the world wherever the British races hold sway. We need not, then, reconcile ourselves to poverty. We are potentially not only the richest people in the world, but also the richest people the world has ever known.

KING GEORGE

The Richmond Times-Despatch

King George is popular throughout the civilized world, not only because he is the living symbol of the British Empire, but because of his own excellent qualities as a man. The sovereign who in this day retains the affection of his subjects, and impresses himself upon others as an unstanding gentleman of the first order, is deserving of a long and happy life. He is possessed of a character all too rare on this earth. In his death the world would become appreciably poorer. It is not often that lesser mortals are afforded such an example of virtue in a man whose life is mirrored daily for such influence as it may have upon the world. For this reason King George is an unusually stimulating figure.

That lowest form of life again—Mrs. Fiske, fur coats and the modern woman — Rich and poor Americans, mostly the latter—and warfare up-to-date.

By H. B. W.

OCCASIONALLY, THOUGH you would hardly credit it, this column says something foolish which some people think profoundly wise, despite its source. (When it says something wise, of course, that is sure to be considered foolish). Well, this column said recently that the lowest form of life was not to be found in the zoo, the jungle or the laboratory, but in the theatre after the show has started, when the late-comers wander over your knees panting apologies and the aroma of cocktails. Nature has never sunk to such depths as in the creation of such creatures.

A SIMPLE and obvious statement, this, but it seemed to cheer the hearts of a large multitude, as if it were very remarkable indeed, showing that there is a splendid unanimity on this point among respectable folk. Since it was said first, and since the theatre season here got well under way, countless wretched souls have come to me and implored that it might be said again, as if this column, by deploring that natural phenomenon, could cause it to disappear, any more than it could deplore the law of gravity or the City Council with the same effect. These enemies of society still lurch through the gloom, still tread on your toes, still trail their overcoats across your face, still spoil the first act, just as if this column hadn't said anything about them. It requires more than this column; it requires a policeman, to teach some people that the cave age is over.

PRIMARILY, OF course, the responsibility for this condition rests with the theatre managers. Until they steel their hearts and refuse to admit people after the first curtain, as is done in civilized communities, there will be no hope for the suffering majority. As a compromise between the thing the theatre management ought to do and what it feels able to do, I suggest a constructive idea, which is so rare in these premises that it should be given sane attention. I suggest that the last two rows of seats be reserved for people who can't finish their dinner in time to beat the overture. Let them sit there alone at the back with their shame until the first intermission when, if they were very good, they might be allowed to enter the seats they have paid for. Next time they will come before the curtain rises and find, to their amazement, that this arrangement, while not really fashionable, is more satisfactory after all.

MRS. FISKE, the veteran American actress, has been attracting wide attention by her recent return to the New York stage in a play called "Ladies of the Jury." While Mrs. Fiske is remarkable for the sustained brilliance of her career, she is even more remarkable for her private tastes. She eats no flesh, which perhaps is not very unusual, and she wears no real furs or feathers, which makes her all but unique in this generation. "Society," says this spirited old lady, "is so organized as to make it seem necessary for thousands of shouting, cursing men to stand knee-deep in blood, dealing ferocious blows right and left upon millions of shrieking animals in order that we may be fed. The steel trap has no place in anything even remotely describing itself as civilization, and to abolish it we shall rely upon the modern woman."

TO MRS. FISKE the modern woman must be proving a lamentable disappointment. For many years she has been waging this campaign against the torture of animals, first for human needs and, second, for human luxuries. In the first, perhaps, her cause is succeeding somewhat, though not through her humanitarian motives, but only because too much meat does not please the great god Diet and its vicious associate, Fashion; but in the second, the modern woman has let Mrs. Fiske down badly indeed.

IF MRS. FISKE were to walk along one of Victoria's streets at any time of the day she would see fur coats which have cost the lives and suffering of countless thousands of little animals, and many more thousands will be required to make the garments which will be bought during the winter season. There are more fur coats now than ever before, not because the climate is getting any colder, but because no modern woman's spiritual life is complete without one. Mrs. Fiske can be beautiful without a fur coat, but most modern women are not so clever. They have to be artificial, and ruthless. Anything remotely describing itself as civilization is not for them.

TO CANADIANS who have the idea, widely propagandized by politicians of the ingrowing school, that our young men must go to the United States to make a living, because everyone down there is rich, while we hew wood and draw water for them, should read statistics just issued by the United States Department of Labor. These show at one end, which is the only end that some Canadians and some statesmen seem to be able to see, are 290 Americans who paid taxes last year on incomes of $1,000,000 or more. But at the other end, which has been generally overlooked, are 110,000,000 people with incomes of less than $5,000 a year, and the Labor Department estimates that eighty per cent. of all American families have only $750 to $2,000 a year. Eight out of ten American families thus are relatively poor, which fact should astound a world accustomed to believe that all Americans are wealthy. Also, it should help Canadians to look at these things with a saner perspective.

WHILE A new era of peace between this continent and Europe seems to have dawned, the ancient strife has merely run into other channels, some of them more dangerous than the old ones. So far this continent still holds the record for hoop-rolling, croquet ball driving, peanut pushing, rope swinging and flagpole sitting, but Europeans are rapidly forging ahead. Max Hinel, Berlin shoemaker, has bettered the American egg-eating record by one egg and ninety seconds having consumed seventy-five eggs in ten and one-half minutes; and Dr. Alesencer Meyer, of Russia, has broken all previous records for rocking in a rocking chair. But the greatest challenge to North American supremacy has just come from Belgiun, where the whole country is going in for new pipe-smoking glories. Clubs are being organized all over Belgium to teach Belgians how to smoke longer and better than anyone else. The contests held so far in Belgium indicate that American smokers will have a hard time to equal the marathon smokers of the Old World. Tobacco chewing is to be the next test of national courage. Before this new era has gone much further we may wish for the return of the relatively respectable warfare of the old days.

Few but the older residents remember the robbery of the Bank of B.C., now the Bank of Commerce, in this city in the early sixties, and the excitement it created because of the social standing of the parties suspected. D. W. H., whose book of reminiscences will shortly reach its second edition, has written the story especially for The Times.

TWELVE BONUS PLANTS SOLD

Department of Industries Tells of Progress Made So Far This Year

Collections from industrial loans under the Provincial Department of Industries will aggregate $300,000 by the end of the current year, it is stated. Twelve plants were sold during the first nine months and the sale of a further two is pending. Four or five plants are in the hands of the department for reorganization, it is announced.

In company with Col. D. B. Martyn, commissioner of industries, Hon. W. C. Shelly has visited thirty plants assisted through Government aid in the establishment of industrial businesses. The minister has expressed himself as satisfied with the progress being made in the plants, and with the manner in which the industrial loans are being repaid.

The sum of $1,800,000 has been advanced by the department since its inception. The debt to the treasury at this time is placed at $667,000, and of this amount $300,000 is available to apply against the indebtedness. Some 667 persons are employed in the thirty plants visited.

MARTIN HARVEY HERE NEXT WEEK

Famous English Actor on Final Tour With "Only Way"

For the first play on his list, which he will offer on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with the usual Wednesday matinee, Sir John has turned to the modern Spanish. The title is "The Lowland Wolf." From the pen of Angel Guimera, the play presents to Sir John a remarkable chance to show talents that have not been altogether displayed on his recent Canadian tours. He takes the part of Manelich, shepherd of the mountains. The play has been translated into twenty-one languages, and so powerful an appeal has been made by Manelich to the Spanish people that they have erected a statue to him in Barcelona. In Spain he holds rank with Hamlet. This will be the first time this epochal Spanish play has been seen here, and it should prove one of the most popular in which Sir John has ever appeared.

For the balance of the week, commencing on Thursday, with a matinee on Saturday, Sir John will make his farewell appearance as Sidney Carton in "The Only Way." In this role in this splendid drama Sir John has built up through many years a reputation that is probably unique in stage history. To the confirmed theatregoer the final speech of the n'er-do-well character is probably as well known as the soliloquies of Hamlet, and all because Sir John brought his great ability to a part that could be less than mediocre in the hands of an actor of ordinary rank and merit. It is truly to be regretted that Sir John has decided to end Sidney Carton, as there is unlikely to be anyone in this generation who will revive the role to the satisfaction of those who have seen the greatest of Sidney Cartons.

MINES PROGRESS TO BE RELATED AT INSTITUTE SESSION

The programme of the general meeting of the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy to be held in Vancouver, November 27, 28 and 29, has been designed with the object of presenting a comprehensive review of the important developments and progress of the mining industry of the province during the current year. Co-operation of the Provincial Department of Mines has been enlisted. A full technical session of which there will be six, will be allocated to each mineral survey district, with its resident engineer as chairman, who will, in each case, give a general survey of conditions in his district preliminary to the presentation of papers by members dealing in detail with some point of outstanding interest either in respect to new discoveries or to improvements or innovations in mining and metallurgical practice.

The meeting will be opened formally on the morning of Wednesday, November 27, by the divisional chairman, J. D. Galloway, provincial mineralogist, who will present a statistical review of mining during the year.

The following technical papers will be presented:—Placer Mining in the Atlin District, its History and Future Possibilities, by C. L. Munroe, Gold Commissioner, Prince Rupert; Aerial Tramway Construction in Northern British Columbia, by Dale L. Pitt; The Duthie Mill and Milling Practice, by Van J. Smith; Developments at Owen Lake, by Prof. J. M. Turnbull; Development of the Lorne Mine, by R. W. W. McDougall; The Production and Manufacture of Gypsum, by Norman Jessiman; The Hedley Mine and Mill, by Gomer P. Jones, B. W. Knowles and Roscoe Wheeler; The Allenby Concentrator, by H. R. Taylor; Geology of the Pend Oreille District, by Dr. J. F. Walker; Corbin Coal Mining and Cleaning Plant, by George Watkins Evans; The Nimpkish Lake Copper Deposits, by Dr. H. C. Gunning; Pulverized Coal with special reference to its application for industrial and domestic purposes, by W. N. Kelly.

In addition there will be two popular lectures on the oil fields of Alberta, the one illustrated by lantern slides, by G. R. Elliott of the Department of the Interior, Calgary, and the other, illustrated by moving pictures, by B. L. Thorne of the Natural Resources Department of the C.P.R.

The annual dinner will take place on the evening of Friday, November 29, with the Premier, the Minister of Mines and the Hon. R. L. Maitland as guests of honor.

OAK BAY GIRL WED SATURDAY AT ST. MARY'S

Miss Elinor Johnson Becomes Bride of Chas. H. Muston at Evening Service

Charming simplicity in every detail marked the wedding on Saturday evening at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, of Elinor Mary, second daughter of the late Mr. H. P. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson of Currie Road, Oak Bay, and Mr. Charles Hughes Muston, eldest son of Mrs. Louis Nelson of Manor Road, Craigdarroch. Rev. A. E. de L. Nunns read the service and F. C. T. Wickett presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by Mr. Dick Hinton, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of periwinkle blue georgette, fashioned with a long, tight bodice and wide bertha collar, and the skirt falling in tiers to the ankles. With this attractive costume she wore a long string of crystals and a picture hat of blue mohair and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and bridal roses.

Miss Nancy Johnson, the bride's twin sister, was the only attendant, and wore a smart frock of mauve georgette, with slender bodice, and the skirt fashioned in tiers and edged with fawn lace, with which she wore a picture hat of mohair and carried a sheaf of mauve and pink chrysanthemums. Mr. Wilfred Hughes supported the groom.

Following the church service, a small reception was held in at the home of the bride's mother, where Mrs. Johnson, attired in a gown of black crepe re Chine, trimmed with velvet and wearing a small black hat faced with silver, and Mrs. Nelson, wearing black velvet with a black fox fur and small felt hat, assisted the young couple in receiving the guests.

The many handsome wedding presents were on display in the drawing-room and included a set of table silverware from the employees of the firm of Scott and Peden, with which company the bride was employed. The supper table, which was centred with the three-tier wedding cake, was attractive with its decorations of chrysanthemums and tulle, and tall pink lighted tapers in silver holders. The reception rooms were decorated in bronze and pink chrysantheums.

Mr. and Mrs. Muston left on the midnight boat for Vancouver where the honeymoon will be spent, and upon their return to Victoria will make their home in the Mount Baker Apartments, Oak Bay. For traveling the bride wore a fawn crepe de Chine dress with a small brown felt hat, and a silver muskrat fur coat, the gift of the groom.

WEDDING HELD AT ST. BARNABAS

Miss Lily Cross Becomes Bride of Raymond Rigby Saturday

St. Barnabas Church was the scene of an interesting wedding Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Rev. N. E. Smith united in marriage Lily, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Cross, 1705 Cook Street, and Mr. Raymond Rigby, second son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Rigby, 64 Gorge Road.

For the happy occasion the church had been beautifully decorated with a profusion of fall flowers by friends of the bride. Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in her wedding gown of white georgette, picoted in silver and trimmed with a spray of orange blossoms falling from the shoulder. The skirt featured the new uneven hemline. In place of the conventional wedding veil the bride wore a picture hat of cream mohair with streamers of silver ribbon. Her bouquet was of bridal roses and bavardia.

The bride was attended by Miss Florence McKinnon in a gown of canary georgette picoted in gold. A dainty bertha collar fell in cape-like fashion from the shoulders, and a crushed girdle trimmed with rhinestones formed the waistline. With this she wore a silk felt hat of the same shade with silk streamers of a darker hue. She carried an arm bouquet of golden chrysanthemums and violets. Little Miss Agnes Stringer in a befrilled frock of peach crepe de Chine, made a dainty little flower girl. She carried a silver basket filled with pink carnations. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Albert Rigby.

Following the service a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1705 Cook Street, where they were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Cross, mother of the bride, who wore a gown of blue Arctic silk and black velvet hat, and by Mrs. Rigby, in nut brown crepe back satin with hat to match.

The table was centred with a beautiful three-tier wedding cake, the gift of Masters's Bakery, where the bride was employed for the last five years. Mr. and Mrs. Rigby left later for Seattle, en route for Portland. On their return to Victoria they will reside at 1232 Seaview Avenue. For traveling the bride wore a coat of grey fur with silvet hat trimmed with blue and a frock of blue flat crape.

Among the many handsome wedding gifts was a mantle clock from the workers of the Silver Spring and Phoenix breweries, where the groom is a member of the office staff.

The First United Church choir, winners of the Sweepstake Cup, at the recent musical festival in Seattle, will offer a musical and recitative programme on Tuesday next, in Amphion Hall, of great variety, and which will include some entirely new numbers for Victoria audiences. The concert, which is being given under the auspices of the Royal Society of St. George, will be in the hands of W. C. Fyfe, the conductor of the choir, and will commence at 8 o'clock. Tickets may now be obtained from Fletcher Bros., Davis & King, and the Willis Piano Company.

Vancouver Has New Hobby Club

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—Between forty and fifty persons attended the first meeting of No. 1 branch, Vancouver Hobby Club, held Saturday night at the Georgia Hotel.

Around the room were arranged exhibits of wood carvings by W. S. Sugden, Indian curios collected by Mrs. E. Lipsett, stamp albums and model yachts, in which keen interest was shown by those in attendance.

As organizer and first hobby chief, Norman H. Hawkins presided over the meeting. He explained one of the principal objects of the club was to provide an organization into which youthful hobbyists might graduate. Children and adolescents all had hobbies, he declared, but many dropped them in later life. The Hobby Club was designed to encourage a continuation of these hobbies for the sake of the value to be obtained from them as adults.

Several of the exhibitors gave short addresses on their hobbies, the speeches being interspersed with a musical programme.

JUNIOR MUSICAL CLUB IS FORMED

Students Organize Under Auspices of Ladies' Musical

With an enthusiasm which bespeaks the success of the undertaking, a number of music students of the city gathered at the home of Mrs. J. O. Cameron, president of the Ladies' Musical Club, on Saturday afternoon and formed a junior club.

Mrs. Cameron briefly addressed the gathering, telling of the success achieved by junior clubs in Seattle and Vancouver, where they were doing excellent work in stimulating an interest in musical affairs and in bringing out young talent. Plans were then discussed and a tentative organization effected.

An enjoyable programme was given by the following talented students: Miss Helen Ockenden, piano; Miss Adele Bucklin, violin; Miss Phyllis Hadfield, piano.

The next meeting also will be at the home of Mrs. Cameron, on Friday, December 6, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when officers will be elected. An interesting programme is being arranged.

The club hopes to have a large membership and students are invited to join before the membership list closes.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

BABIES OFTEN SHOW DOMESTIC TASTES

One of my readers gets her thumb right square on a flat-headed tack and pushes, when she says: "If mothers had more imagination, there would be less irritable and more contented babies. I have known both kinds." Mothers aren't always aware of the treasure stores of their own kitchen. Babies like simple toys. All bright things attract them, as Daddy well knows. His watch or his metal-topped pencil rate very high with baby. And so the patty pans and custard cups of aluminum, the kind that fit into each other, will keep a baby enthralled for long periods. Series of bright lids, or any kind of box in which small objects can be placed and the lid easily lifted and shut will never lose interest. Mothers too often rely upon balls and rattles alone for the small baby's entertainment. They might better open up a new field of interest, and new metal stimulants by offering objects of new shapes and colors, with fascinating new possibilities from baby's angle.

It was the following letter from Mrs. D. P. which urged me to stress this particular subject to-day. She writes: "Your department has been a source of great interest to me, and now my husband and I read it together and save many articles for future reference.

"I have been feeding according to your leaflet with the doctor's hearty approval, though I am getting a little ahead of the schedule because baby is heavier. He weighs twenty-one pounds at nine months and wants to be on his feet all the time. Isn't there danger of bowlegs?

"I followed your article suggesting how to amuse the baby with remarkable success. Now I give him only a few toys at a time and he is fascinated by them. I have devised several forms of amusement which other mothers might enjoy trying.

"I suspend a bright toy by an elastic from a strong hook or chandelier and baby plays with it like a kitten. I place toys in a light, strong cardboard box and leave it in different corners of the room and let him find it. He enjoys upsetting the box and spilling the toys. He likes toys placed in a cupboard, too, for babies are naturally curious. If the door is part way open almost any baby will try to get it the rest of the way open and amuse himself with the fruits of his discovery. If baby wants a spool that is too small for safety, tie several together. They make a good toy and avoid the necessity of refusing him the one and thus disappointing him. If mothers had more imagination there would be less irritable and more contented babies. I have known both kinds."

ANSWER

I am always happy when mothers and fathers read the department together. If both have the same ideas, there is so much less chance for the friction that makes the mother's lot harder and baby the chief sufferer.

You needn't worry about the bowlegs. The healthy baby who is struggling to stand up at nine months could hardly be suffering from rickets, which would be the only reason for the legs to bow. Put him on the floor so he can creep and he'll amuse himself with this activity for a month or two more.

SCHUBERT CLUB RECITAL SOON

Aaron and Ella Stankevich to Assist Programme

The Ladies' Schubert Club, under the conductorship of Frederic King, will give their first recital of the season on November 27 in the Shriners Hall, View Street, at 8.15 p.m. On this occasion they will be assisted by the well-known artists, Aaron and Ella Stankevitch of Vancouver, who are very popular with Victoria audiences. They will be heard in violin and piano groups.

The full programme is as follows: Group I, violin—Andante-Allegro ma non Troppo, and Allegro molto vivace from Concerto in E minor (Mendelssohn), Aaron Stankevitch; group II, piano—(a) Etude Op. 10 No. 12 (Chopin), (b) Tarantella (Liszt), Ella Stankevitch; group III, violin (a) Hungarian Rhapsodie (Houser); (b) Ave Maria (Schubert-Wilhelmj); (c) Scherzo Tarantelle (Wieniawski), Aaron Stankevitch.

Annual Bazaar Of St. Andrew's Big Success

The Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held their annual bazaar in the lecture rooms adjoining the church on Saturday afternoon, which proved to be very successful. Mrs. George Sanson, president of the guild, introduced Mrs. S. P. Tolmie, who opened the sale with a few gracious words of congratulations and good wishes, little Dick Ellis presenting her with a beautiful basket of carnations at the close of her brief address.

The bazaar was a most picturesque and well-arranged affair, each booth being decked in attractive colors. Mrs. John Cochrane was general convener. An attractive collection of plain and fancy needlework was offered for sale. A tempting display of home cooking met with a ready demand. The candy stall was well stocked with home-made sweet meats in dainty containers, while the "White Elephant" drew many purchasers, and the "Lady of the Pockets" was very popular with the children.

Afternoon tea was also served, during which a musical programme added to the enjoyment.

Viscount and Lady Willingdon Off to British West Indies

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—The voyage to the British West Indies, which the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon will make at the end of this month, while designed primarily as a rest and holiday, assumes also the aspect of a "goodwill" journey. With the relaxation and enjoyment afforded by several weeks of travel amid the beautiful scenes of the tropical islands will be combined calls upon the governors of the various places at which the vessels stop.

The tour is planned to last from November 29 till January 3.

Boston Appears Headed Towards Another N.H.L. Championship

THE SPORTS MIRROR

NOT SATISFIED with having obtained Bob Meusel and Harry Heilmann from American League clubs on waivers, Manager Dan Howley of the Cincinnati Reds is still gunning for big game. It is reported that Howley is preparing to make a bid for Rogers Hornsby of the Chicago Cubs. Howley and Hornsby have been close friends for many years and the Reds' leader is so anxious to lay his hands on the famous batsman that it will not be surprising if he offers to trade Hughie Critz, together with a bundle of cash, to the Cubs.

If Howley goes through with that proposition Joe McCarthy may accept. Chicago critics still are panning Hornsby for his weak hitting and slow fielding in the world series. They are saying that Critz would be a much more valuable second baseman in the Cubs' lineup for 1930.

Howley has made overtures to the St. Louis Cardinals for pitcher Flint Rhem, who was a tower of strength when that club won the world championship in 1926, but since has been spending most of his time in the minors.

A closed season may have to be established for baseball experts, particularly in New York. Playing a losing game at guessing the identity of Connie Mack's world series pitchers, the experts went home and suggested every name but the right one for the Yankee's manager.

Bob (the Gob) Shawkey, who made red sleeves fashionable as a part of baseball uniforms, was regarded as a rank outsider as the successor of the late Miller Huggins, but Jacob Ruppert, had the last say, said Shawkey so clearly and distinctly that no one within hearing distance of his presidential voice could doubt that Shawkey was the new manager of the Yankees.

Pitchers who have been graduated to the managerial office are rare, but there is precedent on the New York American League club for the move from pitchers' mound to the No. 1 seat on the bench. Clark Griffith and the late Bill Donovan were good pitchers and good managers. Shawkey is a modest ball player who probably never thought of himself as manager of the team until the subject was brought up by President Ruppert.

Shortly after Huggins's death a newspaper writer asked Shawkey: "Who's in charge of the team?" The Yankees were playing at Washington at the time. "Nobody in particular," was the reply. "Well," the writer persisted, "somebody must be charged. Who's running it?" "Nobody in particular," Shawkey repeated.

Behind the scenes in the baseball life of Bob Shawkey looms the story of an obscure storekeeper in a small northwestern Pennsylvania village who foresaw the possibilities in the lanky youth. Harry Truman, minor league and semi-pro pitcher in his younger days, stopped one afternoon to watch a gawky youth playing ball on a vacant lot in Siegal, Pa., a tiny oil town. The youth was Shawkey.

Seeing possibilities in the youthful hurler, Truman took him in hand, and for two years coached him in pitching for control. Back of the Truman barn Shawkey practiced nothing but a straight fast ball for two years. When Shawkey became proficient enough in control to satisfy his teacher, he was taught the intricacies of the curve ball. Curving balls between two posts and the everlasting drilling in control constituted Shawkey's daily fare for three more years. Then Truman declared the time had come for Bob to begin his career in baseball. A trip to a manager friend and Shawkey made his debut in organized ball.

Jump Into League Lead By Two Wins; Rangers In Draw

Holders of Stanley Cup Demonstrate Strength With Victories Over Detroit Cougars and Toronto Maple Leafs; Lester Patrick's Club Held to 5-5 Tie by Detroit Cougars in Only Game Played Last Night; Rejuvenated Black Hawks Promise to Make Things Interesting.

Toronto, Nov. 18—Several conclusions can be drawn from the opening of the National Hockey League season and one of the most important—and the saddest to the adherents of nine major league teams—is that Boston appears to be on the road to another world's championship.

The Bruins have played two games and won both of them. Thursday they trounced the Detroit Cougars 5-2, and Saturday they took a thrilling 6-5 decision from the Toronto Maple Leafs.

In addition to this undoubted evidence that the Bruins have all the strength that carried them to the Stanley Cup triumphs last year, there is another indication. The same Cougars who were defeated Thursday came to New York last night, battled a stronger edition of the New York Rangers and closed with a 5-5 tie.

BOSTON ON TOP

Boston is already at the top of the league standing, being the only team with victories in its first two games. The Rangers and Ottawa each have three points gained from a victory and a tie. The Rangers opened with the lowest score of the first week, a 2-1 victory over the Montreal Maroons. Last night they cut loose at the start with a three-goal lead in the first period, but the Cougars outfought and outlasted them to knot the count two minutes before the end.

A rebuilt team of Chicago Black Hawks, also has added interest to the start of the campaign by battling two of the league's strongest aggregations to ties. Thursday they drew with Toronto 2-2, they then came from behind Saturday for a 4-4 deadlock with Canadiens of Montreal.

The Flying Frenchmen also drew in their opening games, winding up at 3-3 against Ottawa. Toronto put up a great fight Saturday against Boston, scoring three goals for a tie in the final period. But the Bruins came through again just before the end.

AMERICANS LOSE

After a tie with Canadiens, Ottawa came through to take a 4-3 decision from the New York Americans in the opener for the star-spangled team.

Montreal's Maroons were ragged at the start when they lost to the Rangers, but they recovered in time to spoil Pittsburgh's opening Saturday with a 5-2 victory. Led by Dave Trottier, the Maroons piled up four goals before the Pirates could score.

New York, Nov. 18.—A heavy and scrappy team of Detroit Cougars came from behind last night to battle the New York Rangers to a 5-5 tie in the New York opening of the National Hockey League season. A capacity crowd of 17,000 saw the thrilling seventy minute struggle.

The Cougars trailed their lighter and faster opponents from the time the game was three minutes old when Bill Cook tallied the first of three goals, until two minutes before the end of the regular playing time. Georgie Hay, veteran left wing player, drove in the tieing goal on a pass from Carson Cooper two minutes before the third period ended.

New York—Roach, Johnson, Bourgeault, Boucher, W. Cook and F. Cook.

SUBS

Rangers—Thompson, Murdoch, Keeling, Foster, Queeneville, Vail, Goldsworthy.

Cougars—Hicks, Aurie, Hughes, Connors, Herberts, Cooper and Hay.

Officials—Mallinson and Ritchie.

First period—1, Rangers, W. Cook (Johnson) 3.02; 2, Rangers, W. Cook, 5.02; 3, Rangers, Goldsworthy (Murdoch) 3.47; 4, Detroit, Lewis (Bellefuille) 1.00.

Second period—5, Rangers, F. Cook (Bourgeault) 2.15; 6, Detroit, Goodfellow (Hay) 2.52; 7, Detroit, Rockburn (Goodfellow) 9.19.

Third period—8, Rangers, W. Cook (Bourgeault) 2.03; 9, Detroit, Hicks, 8.18; 10, Detroit, Hay, 7.29.

Overtime—No score.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—Two light, fast-skating teams, the rebuilt Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens, Saturday gave a thrilling exhibition of hockey before a capacity audience, and at the end of seventy minutes were tied, four-all. The line-up:

Chicago—Gardiner, Abel, Dutkowski, Somers, Couture, Gottselig, Ripley, March, Miller, Wentworth, Cook, Taylor, Arbour.

Canadiens—Hainsworth, S. Mantha, Burke, Morenz, Joliat, Wasnie, Lepine, Leduc, La Rochelle, Fraser, G. Mantha, Mondou.

Referees, Jean Susave and Leo Heferman.

SUMMARY

First Period—1, Chicago, March, 4.48; 2, Chicago, Couture, 10.15; 3, Canadiens, Joliat, 13.54; Chicago, Arbour, 15.05; 5, Canadiens, Joliat, 15.35.

Second Period—6, Canadiens, Joliat from Burke, 7.21; 7, Canadiens, Burke, 11.42.

Third Period—8, Chicago, Ripley, 6.01.

Overtime—No score.

Toronto, Nov. 18—The Boston Bruins, world's professional hockey champions, made an auspicious debut in the current National Hockey League here Saturday by defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs, 6-5. The real excitement and brilliant play of the game developed in the final period when Toronto tallied three times to tie the score, only to have Boston come through and score the winning goal. The line-ups:

Boston—Thompson, Shore, Hitchman, Carson, Oliver, Galbraith, Owens, Clapper, Weiland, Gainer, Gagne, McKay, Barry and Taylor.

SUMMARY

Second Period—6, Boston, Hitchman, 14.00; 7, Toronto, Cotton, 4.30.

Third Period—8, Toronto, Blair, 4.30; 9, Toronto, Brydson, 7.00; 10, Toronto, Conacher, 1.00; 11, Boston, Gainer, 4.00.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 18.—The Pittsburgh hockey sextette inaugurated its campaign here Saturday by suffering a 5-2 defeat at the hands of Jerry Laflamme's Montreal Maroons in a contest featured by a host of penalties and considerable action. The Maroons followed up a scoreless first period, by tallying twice in the second frame. The line-ups:

Montreal—Walsh, Boucher, Dutton, J. Smith, Stewart, Seibert, Trottier, Robinson, W. Munro, Phillips, Wilcox and Northcott.

SUMMARY

First Period—No score.

Second Period—1, Montreal, Seibert, 13.35; 2, Montreal, Trottier from Phillips, 18.42.

Third Period—3, Montreal, Boucher, 1.51; 2, Montreal, Trottier, 4.54; 5, Pittsburgh, Darragh from Milke, 7.35; 6, Montreal, Stewart from Dutton, 1.12; 7, Pittsburgh, Darragh from McKinnon, 3.03.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—In a stirring National Hockey League battle here Saturday, Ottawa Senators nosed out New York Americans, 4-3. Three times in the lead, the Senators were overhauled each time by the Yankees until the Ottawas scored the winning counter from Heck Kilrea's stick six minutes before the game ended. The Americans traveled an uphill route all the way, but fought valiantly and deserved better treatment. Ottawa scored first via Smith, and Himes evened up before H. Kilrea again put the Senators ahead. In the second period the Americans again tied it up. Ottawa again went ahead, but again the A's knotted the count. Kilrea's counter that won the game was a brilliant bit of work with Clancy assisting.

Angry Mob Swarms Over Soccer Pitch When Game Called

Arsenal Fans Disagree When Match Between Their Team and Middlesbrough Is Abandoned Due to Bad Weather; Majority of English League Matches Played in Depressing Conditions; Leeds United Lose First Division Leadership; Surprising Results Seen In Scottish First Division; Rangers Now On Top.

London, Nov. 18—Soccer football was played in England on Saturday in most parts in a drenching sleet, which had fallen since Friday night, and a thick mist, which made conditions the most depressing in years. Attendances were small at all grounds.

The wretched weather accounted for the irritability of the crowd at Highbury, where the Arsenal and Middlesbrough match had to be abandoned in the second half. Three thousand Arsenal fans swarmed over the pitch and demonstrated their disapproval when the decision was reached to call off the game.

Leeds United lost their First Division league leadership at home, when Westham United beat them by 3-1. The Hammers quickly asserted themselves Milburn put the ball through his own goal for the Hammers' third tally, when he was unable to hold the slippery ball.

Blackpool, leaders in the Second Division, went to Charlton Athletic grounds and pulled off an impressive win by 4 to 1. Blackpool deserved their win as they were the faster team.

The runners-up in the division, Oldham, Athletics, also gave a fine performance, beating Bradford City by 4-2. Bradford City, who were at home, had the best of matters for the first twenty minutes. The second half was hotly contested, Gray and Hasson netting for Oldham soon after resumption and Keetley for Bradford.

STILL UNBEATEN

Plymouth just retained their unbeaten record in a fast clean game with Bournemouth and Boscombe on the latter's grounds. Plymouth are leading in the Southern Section of the Third Division. The effect of a strengthened Walsal was seen in the defeat inflicted on Merthyr Town. Walsal scored six tallies and Merthyr made no response. Portvale, Northern Section pace setters, inflicted the first home defeat of the season on Darlington with a goal scored by Griffith midway through the second half.

Glasgow, Nov. 18.—As is usual at this time of year, Scottish First Division soccer matches Saturday furnished several surprising results. Chief of these was the fall of cup holders at home to Dundee United by 2-0. When they beat Kilmarnock, Dundee United won their first away from home game this season. George Henderson, the old Ranger centre, was the match winner, having both the United goals, and the scores came in the first half of the match. Queen's Park, who have been beaten eight Saturdays in succession, fairly swamped Partick Thistle to break their run of bad luck at Hampden, getting four goals to the opponent's one.

REGULAR FIELD DAY

Rangers had a field day at Ibrox Park against Ayr United, putting in nine goals. Fleming scored four, Marshall two, Archibald two and Brown one. The United made no reply. This entitled Rangers to get on top of the league averages. They are tied with Aberdeen on points, but have a far better goal average and games in hand.

Motherwell drew with St. Johnstone at Perth, while Hearts over ran Morton at Edinburgh, turning in a 4-0 win.

Clyde and Hamilton Academicals split the points, and another draw was played at Brookville between Falkirk and Hibernian, beside getting a goal.

Three goals by Campbell, O'Hara and Feenay in the second half gave United Dundee victory over Airdale, who failed to score. Celtic just got home against Cowdenbeath, at Parkhead, getting the odd goal out of three. Napier and Wilson, from a penalty, scored for Celtic and Pullar for Cowdenbeath.

Belgian Battles Ebbets

Two Outstanding Contenders For Mickey Walker's Crown Will Meet Friday

Kid Chocolate to Meet Jose Martinez; Christner and Jimmy Maloney Matched

New York, Nov. 18.—Two of the outstanding challengers for Mickey Walker's middleweight title, will be seen in action when Harry Ebbets, blonde slugger from Freeport, Long Island, clashes with Rene Devos, the Belgian fox, in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

This bout, most important on this week, is scheduled for ten rounds, but it may go less if Ebbets's famed right hand punch connects with the Belgian's chin. Devos has been an outstanding contender for the middleweight title for more than a year, but his stock has slipped a bit as a result of defeats by Dave Shade, Ace Hudkins and a hitherto unknown, Jock Conrad of New Jersey.

Nick Testo of Troy, N.Y., meets Vince Dundee, Baltimore middleweight, in the semi-final of ten rounds, and Black Bill of Cuba battles Eugene Huat, French flyweight, in the first tournament designed to bring about the naming of a generally recognized champion.

CHOCOLATE MATCHED

Boston's shot at the Boston Garden Friday night is featured by a ten-round meeting between K.O. Christner of Akron, Ohio, and Jimmy Maloney, Boston heavyweight. Emmett Rocco, Elwood City, Pa., takes on Marty Gallagher, Washington heavyweight, in the semi-final.

Eddie Shea, Chicago featherweight, and Chick Suggs, veteran New Bedford, Mass., boxer, are matched in the winp bout at the Paradise Arena, Chicago, Tuesday night, with Mique Malloy as master of ceremonies.

At Philadelphia to-night Frankie Hayes, Philadelphia welterweight, meets Baby Joe Gans, Los Angeles, and Luis Vicentini, Chilean lightweight, tackles Johnny Jadlch, Philadelphia, in the two top tens.

Mary Casson Wins Dominion Aquatic Title

Montreal, Nov. 18.—Mary Casson of Toronto added another Dominion swimming championship to her credit, when she won the final of the 100 yards free-style Canadian title event staged here Saturday night.

PEDENS BEAT PORT ALBERNI

Local Basketballers Score 31-16 Victory Over Crack Up-island Hoopsters

Pedens quintette returned to town yesterday afternoon after an enjoyable and successful trip to Port Alberni, where they met and defeated the Nine O's, one of the five teams in the senior league at the Up-island hoop centre.

The players reported that the basketball fans in Alberni are highly appreciative of the game.

Pedens went into an early lead and were never seriously threatened. They concentrated their scoring into the first ten minutes of the game and were ahead 14-8 at the end of the first half. They did not increase their lead to any extent until the last ten minutes, when they scored rapidly to add seventeen points to their total. The Port Alberni team could not get near the basket, but scored some beautiful long shots. However, they were not plentiful enough. The Victorians did not have much success in shooting outside the foul area, but worked the ball under the basket on many combination plays that the losers were unable to stop.

The line-ups and individual scores follow:

Pedens—W. White 2, S. Moore 2, C. Chapman 4, T. Little 5, J. Ross 6, R. Whyte and B. Hocking 12. Total, 31.

Port Alberni—G. Williamson 4, J. Williamson 5, E. Westover, R. Patterson 4, E. Motion, B. McCall and H. Davey 3. Total, 16.

Annual Team Match Held At Uplands

In the annual match played at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday between teams captained by the president and vice-president, the latter's side won by a score of 16-10. The competition was over eighteen holes medal play.

Bob Morrison and Clarence Brynjolfson, two of the club's first stringers, were beaten by Harold Brynjolfson and Percy Edmonds. Morrison is the holder of the club championship.

H. Morrison and C. Brynjolfson, 0; H. Brynjolfson and P. Edmonds, 2.

C. N. Westwood and H. O. English, 0; W. H. Newcombe and R. L. Challoner, 2.

SEVEN TEAMS ENTER SERIES

Island Knockout Basketball Competition Draws Good Entry List

Seven local entries have been received for the Vancouver Island knockout basketball competition, and although the entry list is a little larger than last year, there is a possibility that the closing date for entries may be extended.

In the women's division the Fidelis, Red Birds and Harmony have entered from Victoria, while there is a possibility that one or two teams from Duncan and Shawnigan will fill out the entry list for the southern end of the Island.

The men's local entry list is small with the three senior "A" teams and Keating senior "B" entered. Just what other teams on the Island will enter is somewhat of a mystery, but Nanaimo is known to be strong in the upper half, while Duncan and Ladysmith are up to their usual strength.

The draw for the competition will be made in Nanaimo next Sunday, with playing dates also being set at that time.

Hamilton Tigers And Queens Will Battle For Title

Tigers Advance to Final of Eastern Canadian Rugby Series by Smashing 14-2 Victory Over Sarnia Imperials, Conquerors of Balmy Beach; Queens Capture Intercollegiate Title by 15-5 Victory Over Varsity.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 18—Hamilton's famed Tigers advanced to the final for Eastern Canada rugby honors here Saturday afternoon, when they defeated Sarnia Imperials, C.R.F.U. champions, 14-2. For thirty minutes of play it was a wide open affair, the teams being deadlocked at half-time one all, but in the last half the heavy pounding of the Bengal line began to take its toll, and they piled up 14 points while the Imperials were adding a single counter.

The much vaunted Sarnia Backfield did not scintillate against Tiger tackling, for it was on rare occasions that Norman Perry evaded the Tiger ends. But Stirling upheld his own in kicking duel with Welch. His punts were high and lofty and he relieved the situation often for his team.

DISALLOWED SCORE

Tigers really scored fifteen points and many left the grounds satisfied that the Bengals had gained a thirteen-point margin, but in view of the fact that a crowd surged on the field, and just behind the goal posts when "Beano" Wright kicked the final counter, Referee Degruchy refused to allow it, claiming that the fans had hindered the Sarnia backs from running the ball out.

The conquerors of Balmy Beach proved troublesome for the first thirty minutes of play, but in the later stages of the game Tigers were much the best. It was offside penalties and fumbles that prevented the Tigers from compiling a score in the first half. They hit the Sarnia line almost at will, but a ten-yard gain usually brought a fifteen-yard goal penalty for some infraction of the rules.

Norman Perry, McPheedan and Stirling were stopped all afternoon by the deadly and hard tackling of Fear, Simpson and Jimmy Wright. The trio were down the field under every punt from the toe of "Huck" Welch and not once during the entire game did the Sarnia trio pull any of the sensational stuff that carried them to victory in their own group.

Kingston, Nov. 18.—Queens won the senior intercollegiate championship here before 11,000 spectators Saturday afternoon when they defeated Varsity in the play-off game by the score of 15-5. The Tri-color were the better team all the way, and it was not until the last minute of the game that Varsity secured their touchdown on a fumble for the first major score against th Tri-color this year.

Queens qualified to meet the Hamilton Tigers in the eastern Canada rugby finals.

There was no question from the start of the game as to the superiority of the Tri-color, for they outplayed Varsity along the line. A wing line which was reported as being extremely weak, rose to great heights in their tossing back all Varsity threats, while the far more clever kicking of Howard Carter led his team to a glorious and well earned victory.

QUESTIONABLE PLAY

Varsity scarcely had a chance to beat Queens, and it was only in the very last minutes of play that they scored a touchdown on a play that will always remain a questionable one.

Sinclair had punted to Gilmore, who dropped the ball as he was tackled and Stewart went over for a touchdown. At that the spectators believed that the play would be called back as no yards had been given Gilmore, but the officials allowed the touchdown to count.

Saturday's game was Queens most brilliant effort of the season, for they showed no weak spots, the middle wings outplayed everything Varisty offered, and only Jim Sinclair seemed to have any success at carrying the ball.

The Tri-color made yards six times, while Varsity was successful only twice.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—Westward Intermediates, O.R.F.U. champions, advanced to the Canadian intermediate rugby final by defeating the Royal Military College cadets of Kingston, intercollegiate titleholders, in the Dominion semi-final here Saturday by a 5-2 score. An unconverted touchdown against two singles was the margin of Westward's victory.

The locals will meet the Ontario champions in the Canadian final next Saturday.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—With a third period assault that netted them eight points, Ottawa Rideaus Saturday afternoon crashed the junior championship hopes of Toronto Varsity into the slippery surface of the Landsdowne Park gridiron, smearing the Queen city students with a 10-1 trimming. Thirty-five hundred fans turned out to see one of the finest games of football played in this city in a long while. Two evenly matched squads fought it out for the right to proceed into the eastern Canada final against the O.R.F.U. winners, and an unconquerable spirit plus the breaks of the game, carried the locals through to victory. It was a costly victory for the purple, as the game saw three of their star men carried off the field for the rest of the season. Reaum and Johnson, outsides, and Saunders, snap, are out for good, the latter with three cracked ribs and a dislocated shoulder. The feature of the game was the kicking and running of Emerson Ogilvy, substitute for the Paddlers.

Oshawa, Ont., Nov. 18. — Sarnia Wanderers won a hard fought game from the Oshawa Blue Devils here Saturday by the score of 6-5. Oshawa played a loose game, fumbles being costly when they were in scoring position.

A.A.U. Officials Table Simpson's Application For World's Sprint Mark

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 18—Reversing its earlier stand, because of the development of a keen fight over the use of starting blocks, the record committee of the United States Amateur Athletic Union late last night tabled virtually all applications for sprint marks including the world record of 9 4-10 for the 100-yard dash made by George Simpson of Ohio State, at Chicago, last June 8.

This action was taken pending a decision by the track and field committee as to the legality of the blocks. If they are approved, Simpson's record will be accepted as a new American mark and recommended for international adoption.

The same thing applies to the 220-yard low-hurdle record of 22 8-10 seconds, made by Dick Rockaway, of Ohio State, at Evanston last May.

Craig Wood Makes Great Recovery to Win Hawaiian Open

New Jersey Golfer Comes From Twelfth Position to Beat Out Horton Smith by Three Strokes in Golf Tournament; Has Score of 289 for Seventy-two Holes; Billy Burke Third and Gene Sarazen Fourth; Phil Taylor, of Victoria, Has Score of 316.

Honolulu, Nov. 18—Craig Wood, Bloomfield, N.J., won the second annual Hawaiian open golf championship yesterday, scoring a 289 for the seventy-two holes. Wood shot a 72 and a 73 on the final thirty-six holes to displace Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., who led at the end of Saturday's play. Smith won second place with a total score of 292.

Billy Burke, New York, was third with 293, while one stroke behind him Gene Sarazen, New York, qualified for fourth place. Tommy Armour, Detroit, was fifth with 296.

Wood made a surprising recovery from his first day's play, when he finished the eighteen holes in twelfth place with a 75. Saturday he scored a 69 and on yesterday's thirty-six holes exceeded par figures by only one strike to win the tournament.

Smith used siventy-five strokes on the morning, eighteen yesterday and a seventy-four on the afternoon round. Smith and Wood played the afternoon round together, each getting a 36 for the first nine holes. Smith was unable to keep to par golf on the returning trip, using one more stroke than Wood.

BURKE PLAYS WELL

Burke shot a 70 for two under par on the afternoon eighteen which combined with a 72 on the morning trip gave him a day's total of 143. He jumped from thirteenth place, where he finished Saturday, to close among the leaders.

Sarazen played steady golf, stroking 73 in the morning and a 74 on the final lap. Ed. Dudley, Concordville, Pa., made a 70 on the last eighteen holes, while Benny Coltrin, Los Altos, Cal., turned in a 71 for the same trip.

The winners will received prizes totaling $6,000. Cups were awarded to amateurs.

Other finishers with yesterday's total score and the total for the three-day tournament include:

Ed. Dudley, Concordville, Pa., 147-297.
Olin Dutra, Los Angeles, 147-298.
Mortie Dutra, Tacoma, 155-310.
Ted Benedict, Honolulu, 132-312.
Phil Taylor, Victoria, B.C., 156-316.

WEST ROAD WINS A PAIR

Results of the basketball programme at the West Road Hall on Saturday night follows: Fidelis 33, West Road girls 21, First Church Royals 30, West Road Juniors 42, Doo-Dads 27, West Road Seniors 42.

The Fidelis subbed for the Red Birds at the last minute and took the floor short some of their stars. However, their greater experience stood them in good stead and they managed to stay out in front throughout the game. Ina Foubister found the going to her liking and scored ten field baskets for a grand total of twenty points. Mary Peden headed the home team's scoring efforts with 11 points.

The teams and the inidividual scores follow:

Fidelis—A. Taylor, 5; C. Freeman, 6; I. Foubister, 20; C. Yeaman and B. McMurchie, 2. Total 33.

RUN OUT WINNERS

West Road Juniors did not have much difficulty in keeping ahead of the Royals who were very much in the fight for the first part of the game which ended 18-42 in favor of the home squad. However, the winners opened up in the second half and ran their total to 42 points.

Clarence and Claude Sluggett each secured fourteen points to lead the scorers of both teams.

The teams and individual scores follows:

Royals—Goldsmith, 5; Bradley, 6; Clarke, 3; Roberts, 2; Cadell and Taylor, 4. Total 20.

West Road Juniors—Claude Sluggett, 14; Clarence Sluggett, 14; Anderson, 9; Butler and W. Sluggett, 5. Total 42.

Doo-Dads found the going a little too strenuous as they were out of their class against the West Road Seniors who are a tough outfit to beat in their own gym. The Victorians put a hard fight against the heavier team but could not make much scoring headway. The half-time score was 25-9. West Road kept on adding baskets in the second half while the losers made noticable improvement.

Suspension Of Edmonton Grads Asked

B.C. Basketball Association Wants Champs Censured For Their Behavior

Dr. J. A. Gillespie, Vancouver, Named President; Victorians Elected

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—Suspension of the Edmonton Grads, world's champion women's basketball team, for their actions last spring in refusing to obey the edict of the Canadian Basketball Association and travel to British Columbia, is asked for by the British Columbia Basketball Association. The association, at its annual meeting here Saturday, passed a unanimous vote censuring the Edmonton team for their behavior and asking the Canadian body to discipline them for their acts.

This was the highlight of a very harmonious meeting of the British Columbia body. As a result of balloting for officers Dr. J. A. Gillespie of Vancouver, president of the association in 1927 and one of the pioneers of basketball in the Province, will once more lead the association as president. George Winter of Vancouver was re-elected to his third consecutive term as secretary-treasurer of the association.

Players competing in both the Vancouver Commercial League and Sunday School or Vancouver and District Leagues, may breathe easily once again. The meeting voted that it would be permissible for players to play for two teams, providing one team was a member of a commercial league. Otherwise the rule restricting players to one team is still in force.

Traveling teams who make "whoopee" when on the road will have to be careful of their behavior when off their floor in future, or the suspension bogey man will get them. Due to complaints from the interior of the conduct of several visiting teams during their stay, a motion was passed whereby traveling teams will have to apply to the British Columbia Association for a permit to take to the road. Should they indulge in any affairs which cause complaints to reach the association, they will be liable to suspension.

Proxies will be allowed at meetings in the future, it was decided. All players will have to register with the association in the future as well, and a player sent from the floor for unsportsmanlike conduct will be suspended until his case has been investigated. Referees' fees will be reduced to a maximum of $10.

Officers of the association for the coming year are as follows: Dr. R. W. Irving (Kamloops), Mayor Anscomb (Victoria), Mayor Malkin (Vancouver), honorary presidents; Dr. J. A. Gillespie, Vancouver, president; George Winter, Vancouver, secretary-treasurer; A. Clarke, Revelstoke, first vice-president; J. C. Dowds, Victoria, second vice-president; Miss Jo Gignac (Vancouver), Gordon McKay (Kelowna), representatives to advisory board of C.B.A.

Delegates at the meeting were J. C. Dowds and Jack H. Taylor, Victoria; A. Clarke and A. E. Farthing, Revelstoke; Walter Hardwick, G.V.A.A.; A. Riley, Vancouver Commercial League; Lynne Pickler, Vancouver and District League; C. R. Watson, Princeton; A. C. Scrivener, Vancouver Sunday School League.

Victoria Will Meet Vancouver "Reps" In Opening Game Dec. 7

Second Game Will Be Played on January 4, During Annual Invasion of U.B.C. Students; Capt. Coventry, of Victoria, Elected President of McKechnie Cup Committee; Victoria All-star Fifteens Will Meet in Trial Match on November 30; Local "Rep" Fifteen Will Be Picked Following Game.

McKechnie Cup rugby squads from Vancouver will play Victoria on December 7 and January 4, it was decided at the joint meeting of the Mainland and local rugby unions in the Terminal City yesterday.

On the former date the Vancouver "rep" squad will be over, while in January the locals will meet Varsity in a league fixture during the students' invasion.

During the meeting Captain Coventry of Victoria was elected president of the McKechnie Cup committee; His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, was named honorary president; Magistrate George Jay, first vice-president, and Mayor Malkin, of Vancouver, second vice-president, and R. T. Woodward, last year's secretary, was re-appointed.

R. D. Travis was named Victoria's representative to the committee, and Dr. L. S. Klink, Varsity's delegate.

DISCUSS RULES

Discussion of rules took place during the meeting and arrangements were made to have both squads play the same code in order to avoid confusion during the games.

Satisfactory financial arrangements were made for games here and in Vancouver.

In order to get a team into shape for the match on December, two Victoria all-star fifteen, will turn out for a trial match on November 30. From these squads a "rep" team will be selected and will be coached consistently until the game.

In view of the fact that the Mainland squads are practicing three times a week in order to get into shape for the initial encounter here, the locals will have to hold steady work-outs in order to equal their opponent's condition.

While there is the usual wish on the part of Vancouver to win the cup, it is realized that a victory by Victoria would lend a great deal of interest to the series.

In the opening league games here between the Navy and the J.B.A.A., officials of the local union looked over the players and gained an estimate of the strength of the Scottish on Saturday.

From the next game this Saturday, they will be able to gather a rough estimate of the rugby ability of the different players in the league and should have two husky fifteens lined up for the trial game.

BADMINTON IS WON BY COWICHAN

Up-island Players Hand Willows 14-4 Defeat in First Division Match

Phillips Brothers Lose to Leney and Birch; Duncan Only Undefeated Club

Playing at South Cowichan on Saturday in the First Division of the Lower Island Badminton League the Willows Club of Victoria went down to a 14-4 defeat.

Cowichan made a clean sweep in the women's and men's doubles, gaining an early lead, which was never threatened. Eric Leney and Dick Birch, the first string pair of Cowichan were in great form and subdued the first Willow's pair, the Phillips brothers, in decisive manner. The winners are about the strongest paid on the Island, but are expected to encounter stiff opposition from the Bazzett brothers of Duncan, who are also well known for their ability with the light racquet.

Willows secured their first and only wins in the mixed doubles when they took four out of the twelve matches.

At the present time Duncan remains undefeated in the First Division, but have to play the South Cowichan next Saturday. A win would put them still farther in the lead, while the South Cowichan club could go into a tie for first place. While the two northern rivals are playing, the local Garrison and Willows clubs will be playing to determine the league position of the latter club. A win for the Garrison would put them in second place unless Duncan loses their Saturday fixture, when a three-cornered tie would result.

Militiamen's Senior Rugby Team Wallows Through Sailors

College Beat Intermediate Scottish 23-0 After Twenty Minutes; Wanderers Win

Wallowing through a sea of mud, the Canadian Scottish senior fifteen trampled the Navy into the Willows ground to the tune of 26-0 in the militiamen's first rugby fixture of the year on Saturday. Rain that fell throughout the day had transformed the field into a regular quagmire and put a greasy coating on the ball that made it almost impossible to handle.

"Bunny" Hearn, referee, trotted on to the field and scared off a flock of sea gulls who were enjoying the semi-marine habitat of the grounds.

Despite the fact that the slippery ball virtually prevented any accurate passing and kicking, the Scottish got away to a good start and put up a commendable brand of rugby. Led by Campbell Forbes and Godfrey Wenman, their forwards were down on the ball on every play, while the three-quarters broke away for nice runs on every possible occasion.

TRIED KICKING

The Navy attempted to repell the Scots' offensive plays with a kicking game, but failed to get any yardage out of their punts.

From the kick-off the militiamen skidded down into the Navy's twenty-five yard ground. Near the corner the sailors were penalized for handling in the loose and Campbell Forbes was given a free kick. He attempted a drop, but the ball was too slippery.

FIRST TRY

Ten minutes from the start, Tye, Scottish half, got the ball from the scrum about midfield. He slipped it to Turgoose, who ran to the twenty-five yard line. There he was stopped, but passed to Hunnings, who handed his way through the sailors to get the Highlanders' first try. Bruce Forbes missed the kick.

Two minutes later the Scots again forced the ball over, but one of the Navy's men touched down for a twenty-five yard kick.

Campbell Forbes returned the ball on a dribble, but lost it between the posts and again the sailors cleared with a "two-bit" kick.

The Scottish forwards took the ball at midfield and dribbled through to the line. Campbell Forbes kicked over and fell on the ball for the second try, which also went unconverted.

SCORES THIRD

One minute before half-time Bobby Tye took the ball from Bill Pollard following a scrum thirty-five yards out. He dummy-passed his way through the opposition and planted the ball near the corner to bring the count up to 9-0 for the militiamen. No attempt was made to convert the try.

At half-time Stagg and Smith, shivering with cold, quit the game, but the remainder of the Navy team returned to the field.

Two minutes after the rest interval, Jack Horne took a pass from Hunnings and ran fifty yards for the Scots' fourth try. Campbell Forbes converted from in front of the posts.

From the kick-off the militiamen's three-quarters again secured the ball. Oliver gained ground with a pretty run and passed to Horne, who slipped the ball to Hunnings. Hunnings went over at centre. Forbes missed the kick.

NICE RUN

Three more points were added shortly after when Tye, Hunnings, Horne and Oliver featured in a pretty three-quarter run which resulted in the latter going over. Tye failed to convert from an angle.

The sailors began to get fed up with the monotonous regularity with which the Scots were going over.

Consequently when Pete Turgoose got the ball at midfield from the kick, no one tackled him and he crossed the line to bring the total to 26-0.

CALLED GAME

With fifteen minutes gone in the second half, the sailors, wet and cold as they were, realized they could not overcome the lead and conceded the game to the Scottish.

H. S. Hearn refereed and the teams lined up as follows:

Scottish: Parker, Horne, Kinsman, Hunnings, Turgoose, Oliver, Tye, Pollard, Lamb, B. Forbes, Rowlands, Fanning, Riddle, C. Wenman, Campbell Forbes.

INTERMEDIATES

In the Intermediate League, Victoria College swamped the Canadian Scottish under a 23-0 count after twenty minutes' play at Victoria High School, while the Oak Bay Wanderers ran in an 11-0 victory over the Y.M.C.A. in an uncompleted game. At Mount Tolmie, the University School and J.B.A.A. played to a scoreless draw in the only fixture that lasted to the finish.

Seven tries and one convert gave the College victory in the one-sided mud fight at Victoria High.

"Chuck" Ruttan, heavy three-quarter, opened the scoring shortly after the start of the game. This score was the only one converted.

SCORING BEE

From the kick-off, Copeland secured the ball and splashed his way over for the second counter, which was followed in quick succession by five other tries by Grant, Ruttan, Boorman and Young. The latter went over twice.

Although only twenty minutes of the first half had elapsed, the Scottish, virtually drowned in the mud, called the game.

SCORELESS DRAW

Although both teams made some good offensive plays, neither was able to penetrate the last line of defense of the other in the game between the University School and J.B.A.A.

The Mount Tolmie boys made some pretty runs during the encounter, but fumbled near the line and were unable to get across.

Miskicks and poor passes, due to the slippery ball, lowered the standard of play, but both squads worked hard and finished the game fighting.

The teams were:

J.B.A.A.: Bellis, Norris, Lemn, George, Osman, Taylor, Morris, Murray, Short, Kirkham, Caddell, Armstrong, Gilmore, Spence, Darbyshire and Dunn.

WANDERERS WIN

After Symons had crossed the line once and converted, and Laundy and Harrison had added two more tries to the Wanderers' total, the Y.M.C.A. and Oak Bay teams decided to call the other fixture at Oak Bay Park.

The Wanderers' backfield showed up to advantage during the match in spite of the poor condition of the grounds.

W. Coventry refereed and the teams lined up as follows:

Color Lends Charm to Big Stage Revue

All-singing, All-talking and Dancing Film Opens at Dominion

Sound and color have been successfully combined on the same narrow strip of motion picture film and the surprisingly successful combination now will be seen at the Dominion Theatre, starting to-day for three days, in "The Dance of Life," the all-talking, all-singing, all-dancing picturization of the overwhelmingly successful stage play, "Burlesque."

The perfected sound-and-color process has been used to photograph and record a lavish stage revue in "The Dance of Life." The stage and performers appear in natural colors, the brilliant jewels, the gorgeous gowns, the dancing choruses and beautiful settings. Eighty dancing girls are used in the production and the sound of their steps and voices are distinctly heard. A thirty-two-piece orchestra and the song of a soloist are packed together on a single bit of celluloid scarcely more than an inch square.

The perfected system of combining sound and color on motion picture film is the work of scientists of the Technicolor Corporation, working with sound engineers of the Paramount studios. The use of this process in "The Dance of Life" is the first that has been successful enough to present to the public.

Dipsomaniac Is Central Figure Of "Physician"

Play By Henry Arthur Jones Is Screened at Playhouse

"The Physician," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, was a play written by Henry Arthur Jones, and originally produced by Charles Wyndham at the Criterion Theatre, London, in March, 1897, with himself as Dr. Carey, T. B. Thalberg as "Walter Amphiel," Miss Marion Terry at "Lady Valerie," and Miss Mary Moore as "Edana Hinde." The film follows the play pretty closely, with some necessary elaboration, especially in the development of the character of "Jessie Gudron," which was merely a reference in the stage production.

"The Physician" is based on the theory that a dipsomaniac can never permanently regain mental control.

"Toby" Leitch Is Headliner At Coliseum

Clever Stock Company Will Be Seen All This Week in "Cinderella O'Reilly

Another attractive double bill has been chosen for this week's entertainment at the Coliseum Theatre and commencing to-night the Coliseum Players, under the direction of Raymond "Toby" Leitch will present a stage play entitled "Cinderella O'Reilly," which Mr. Leitch guarantees to be one of the finest in his extensive repertoire. On the screen this week Manager George McEwan is presenting an all-talking picture entitled "The Black Watch," starring Victor McLaglen.

The Coliseum Players in "Cinderella O'Reilly" promises to be as funny as ever this week. The name of the play foretells this. "Toby" Leitch will be the headliner and has another of his uproariously funny roles to present for the entertainment of Coliseum patrons. Assisting the leader of the company, will be a group of clever actors and actresses, including Miss Leone Webber, Miss Ruth Albright, Miss Esther Todd, Leon Cluff, Rollin Parker and Horace Arnold.

ON THE SCREEN

McLaglen's role in "The Black Watch," though a military one, is as different from the doughty, cussin' marine in which he was seen in "What Price Glory," as Journey's End" is from "What Price Glory?"—as different as intrigue in India is from trench warfare.

In Myrna Loy, the bewitching, seductive and enigmatic figure of a super-woman, McLaglen has found a perfect foil for his aforementioned ability. The plot, then, revolves about the two with the glamorous background of Asia to heighten their love duel.

Briefly, the story concerns a British officer who accepts public disgrace to best serve the government intelligence. A man with such a love of country is pitted against a woman who aspires to be nothing less than empress and the only thing to frustrate their mutual ambitions is their desire for each other.

John Ford has made this into one of the most thrilling productions which ever came out of Hollywood. And Fox Movietone may be forgiven any superlative adjectives they wish to lavish upon it, for it is the perfect romance with just the proper amount of adventure and excitement and perfervid emotion to make you become a part in the passing scene.

It is wholly in dialogue, and it may be mentioned here that the Movietone process again demonstrates its superior qualities.

"Abie's Irish Rose" Showing At Columbia

Screen Version of Famous Stage Play Opened Here To-day

Why is "Abie's Irish Rose" such a success?

That question has been asked time and time again, along with the query "What do audiences want?"

Anne Nichols, who wrote and originally produced "Abie," and who is responsible for the supervision of the Paramount screen production now being shown at the Columbia Theatre, gave the reasons recently while engaged in filming the picture at the Hollywood studios.

"'Abie's Irish Rose" succeeded because it is homey, sincere, human and simple," Miss Nichols declared. "It is the story of folks who live, and as they live."

"Abie's Irish Rose" is hailed as one of Paramount's biggest "specials" in years. An excellent cast has been chosen to essay the various roles made famous by long runs of "Abie" in every city and nation of the world.

NOTED MEN WITH MORRIS DANCERS

Douglas Kennedy to Lead Performance Here Nov. 26; Auspices National Council

Some outstanding figures in the musical life of Great Britain will visit Victoria shortly, in the personnel of the English folk dancers who are touring Canada under the auspices of the National Council of Education. These dancers will give a performance at the Shrine auditorium, View Street, on Tuesday, November 26, at 8 p.m. In the afternoon there will be a matinee performance for children from the city schools only.

Douglas Kennedy, who is in charge of the team, is a director of the English Folk Dance Society, and succeeded Cecil Sharp on his death in 1924. Mr. Kennedy is a grandson of David Kennedy, the famous Scottish singer, and nephew of Mrs. Marjorie Kennedy-Fraser, collector of the songs of the Hebrides and well known to many Canadian audiences.

A reader of botany at the Imperial College of Science, Mr. Kennedy has given a considerable amount of time to the Folk Dance Society since its foundation. He was one of Cecil Sharp's first Morris and Sword dancers, and has lectured and demonstrated English folk songs and dances in England, America, and on the continent of Europe.

Clive Carey was a member of the English Singers from their inception until autumn, 1924, when he left England to take up the post of singing professor at the Adelaide University. Previously to that he was professor of singing at the Royal College of Music. He took the role of MacHeath in "The Beggar's Opera."

Mr. Carey has appeared at the Albert Hall and the Queen's Hall with the Royal Choral Society, the Bach Choir, the Philharmonic Choir, etc., in London, and with various societies throughout England. He has toured with the English Singers in Berlin, Prague, Vienna, and throughout Hollan dand Czechoslovakia in general; has toured with vocal recital programme in Germany, Holland, Scandinavia, Australia and New Zealand; has produced and sung in various operas (e.g., Savitri, by Holst); sang MacHeath in the "Beggar's Opera" at Hammersmith and on last American and Canadian tour; was one of the directors of the opera class at the Royal College of Music, and later formed and directed the opera class at Adelaide Conservatorium.

Mr. Carey studied with Jean de Reszke in France and acted as his accompanist and assistant for three years shortly before his death. He has sung folk songs and taken part in their recovery since the early days of the revival of interest in them.

CO-OPTIMISTS OFFER COMEDY

"Eliza Comes to Stay" Is Hilarious Farce at Crystal Garden To-morrow Evening

"Eliza Comes to Stay" is the next comedy to be offered by the Co-optimist Comedy Company as another of the series of Tuesday evening entertainments sponsored by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. Every winter for four years the Victoria Chamber of Commerce has sponsored these shows at the Crystal Garden as a "get-acquainted" feature for prairie visitors.

"Eliza Comes to Stay" is a hillarious farce from the pen of the late H. V. Esmond. It had a long run at the Criterion Theatre, London, and has been played everywhere in Canada to crowded houses.

Stage Actors In Star Roles At Capitol

Walter Huston and Claudette Colbert Make Big Impression

"The Lady Lies" Is Title of All-talking Production Now Showing

Two of Broadway's favorite actors in their first appearance together in a screen play opened to-day at the Capital Theatre. The actors are Walter Huston and Claudette Colbert and they made a tremendous impression in the all talking Paramount play, "The Lady Lies."

Assigned to roles which required consummate acting, Miss Colbert and Huston endowed their parts with that very quality of thespian skill. In other, less competent hands, the roles of the successful lawyer and of the beautiful charmer who had come into his life might fall into the Limbo of forgotten screen portrayals. But with this pair, both of them masters of pantomime, the story is carried through with a perpetual tensity of fine, absorbing drama-romance.

The plot has to do with the machinations of a scheming family—the children and relatives of Huston, who is a widower.

More Santa Claus Letters

The Victoria Times offers a prize of $25 for the best letter of not more than 150 words telling just why you know there is a Santa Claus. For the letter which is judged second to the best there is an award of $15; the third prize is $10 and the fourth $1. For the next five letters to receive honorable mention The Times will give $1.

There is only one condition attached to the contest. You must be less than twelve years old.

All letters must be received at the office of The Times not later than midnight of Wednesday, November 20. Announcements of the winners with their letters will be made the following Monday, November 25.

Now is the time to get busy. There certainly is a Santa Claus and all the world knows that he lives right on top of the world, way up at the North Pole.

Of course, there are some little boys and girls who don't think there is a Santa, but that is just all they know about it. You can prove it to them now that you know there is one and he will come to see you at Christmas and with the money from your letter you can buy lots of presents and candy.

Address your letter to the Santa Claus Editor, The Victoria Daily Times, and be sure you mail it in plenty of time. Then watch The Times for your name among the winners.

Dear Editor.

My reason for believing there is a Santa Claus is. Allway's around Xmas time my papa takes me on his knee and tells me Santa has started his long journey over the snow in his sleigh loaded with toys and pulled along by reindeer's. Papa said if I am a good girl untill Xmas one of his toy's will be for me. Santa has never once forgoten me at Xmas yet. Papa lets me know when Santa is nearing Victoria and on the morning he arrives at the causeway steps. I am up early to meet him and shake hand's with dear old Santa. I follow him to Spencer's and see him go into his nice little house of brick. After I see Santa at Hudson Bay Store. I know it's the same Santa because papa said he is like a fairy he can change his face any time he wants to.

Victims of Man's Neglect

THE widows, the fatherless and the aged toil on, an unending procession of misery, across the world's history.

Preyed upon by the unscrupulous . . . aided from time to time by charity . . . they present the most pathetic spectacle in all the world. A spectacle which has no excuse in this country and this century. These are the victims of man's forgetfulness . . . martyrs to the indifference and ignorance of those they loved and depended upon.

If you should be taken away, what would become of those you now cherish and protect?

Look about you at the evidences of other men's neglect, and decide now—before another sun shall rise or set . . . that adequate Life Insurance, the love that never dies, shall protect your loved ones and dependants from the possibility of want.

Age 3½ years. Nov 1st.,

Dear Mr. Editor:

Of course there is a Santa He comes to the Stores Xmas Time and brings the toys. He brought me a long haired dolly. When I went to bed I didn't saw no toys. But when I got up I saw a big tree with lights on and so many toys And toys for Doreen like I told Santa And this year I'm going soon to see him.

I hope you believe in Santa because he's soon coming

Yours. Shirley Kirk.

Dear Editor:

Shirley is only three and a half so cannot write. I held her hand but the words are exactly as she said them.

The letters are extremly interesting as the children themselves.

Wishing your contest every success.

I remain yours Truly

OF COURSE THERE IS, BERT SAYS

Why I beleive why there is a Santa Clawa

Dear Editor

This is the second letter I have sent thinking the other one may have gone mislade

Why of cause there is a Santa Clawse because my stocking always has something in it, and look at all the new toys children have on Christmas Day, and my Mama has no money to buy me toys so Santa must bring them to me. I try and help her all I can because she has been sick for such a long time and I now Santa likes me to do thngs for her

So I try to be a good boy

JOYCE WONDERS WHAT HE WILL BRING

Nov. 13|29.

Dear Editor

Why I believe in Santa Claus. Long long ago there lived a man named St. Nicholas who gave gifts to young and old at Xmas. After he died the people made it a custom to keep his spirit of goodwill among them at Xmas, and it has always been kept ever since, it sure would be a dull Xmas if the spirit of Santa Claus was not around. When Jesus was born, God gave him to us as a Xmas gift and I believe in Jesus and love him, that is why I also love and believe in Santa Claus because of the unselfish love and spirit of goodwill that comes to me every Xmas while I am in the land of dreams. I am longing for Xmas to come and I am wondering what I am going to get.

Joyce Eden.
Age 11, 1159 Caledonia, Ave.

AND THERE HE WAS

Dear Sir;—

I am writing to til you why there is a Santa clause.

There is a Santa because one Xmas morning. when we were all enjoying our presents, we heard a knock at the door, opening the door there was Santa. He gave me a teddy bear, and gave my Sister and brother other toys, So that's why I know there is a Santa Clause.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday.

"For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality" (I Corinthians xv. 53) was one of the Scriptural texts contained in the Lesson-sermon.

Following the reading of the Bible texts, passages were also read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, one passage being the following from page 265: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual—they must near the broader interpretations of being and gain some proper sense of the infinite—in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

FARMER'S WIFE GETS STRENGTH TO DO HER WORK

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. John, New Brunswick.—"I was all run-down from a pain in my back and my left leg bothered me so sometimes that I was unable to do my work. I saw your ad in the newspapers and decided to give your medicine a trial. I have taken over seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now relieved of this suffering. I am a farmer's wife and have three children. I tell all my friends of your Vegetable Compound and I am sure that when it helps me it will help them. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound. All thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham!"—MRS. ARTHUR N. DENNISON, 183 Wentworth St., St. John, New Brunswick.

ROYAL CANADIAN NAVY

To the Editor:—I have it from the Minister of National Defence that he regretted that no mention was made of the Royal Canadian Navy in the report of his address to the United Services Institute of Vancouver Island on the 14th instant the Minister has publicly remarked on more than one occasion on the high state of efficiency of the Royal Canadian Navy on this coast. Canadians can be quite proud of their naval services here for although modest in establishment it is efficiently trained and soundly administered.

J. SUTHERLAND BROWN,
Brigadier.

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

To the Editor:—I am eight years old. Old enough to sit up and take notice. Ever since I came here, many years ago, I have subscribed to your valued Times. I have noticed, I think three times, you have written editorials commenting on the awful price of bread, but no defenders of that exorbitant price have appeared. England grows but little wheat—makes but little flour, yet in London a pound of bread costs four-and-a-quarter cents delivered. Canada grows enough wheat to supply half the world, and the price of a pound of bread is 10 cents delivered. Why this thusness? Can the bakers explain? Will they? As the late Right Hon. Lord Oxford said, "Wait and see."

QUIS SEPARABET.

RADCLIFFE INFIRMARY

To the Editor:—I am venturing to ask that you will publish this letter in your paper because of the very close association which the city and University of Oxford have had in recent years with a considerable number of men resident in Victoria, B.C.

During the war the Radcliffe Infirmary in this city formed a part of the Third Southern General Hospital, in which many soldiers from all parts of the empire were restored to health, and it would be no exaggeration to say that its influence and organization, by means of its honorary medical and surgical staffs, pervaded the whole network of military hospitals in the Oxford area.

Again, the Radcliffe Infirmary is associated with the Medical School of Oxford University, through which have passed so many Rhodes scholars and other overseas medical students.

For these two reasons the committee feel that there may be many people in Victoria, B.C., which would be glad to help in a great effort which is now being made to enlarge the hospital and bring it up-to-date in every respect.

H.R.H. the Prince of Wales has graciously contributed to the fund, and the president, Sir William R. Morris, Bart., has promised £40,000 to build a new maternity department and a further sum of £40,000 if the general public will subscribe £80,000. Towards this a sum of £43,000 has already been received.

The district served is a large and comparatively poor one, but the working men and women living in and around Oxford have already supported the appeal most generously.

In conclusion, I can only express the hope that if you are good enough to publish this letter, it may be read by someone who has cause to remember the Radcliffe Infirmary with gratitude, and who may be glad to take the present opportunity of expressing such gratitude by sending a large or small donation to the Radcliffe Infirmary Extension Fund at Messrs. Barclay's Bank Limited, High Street, Oxford. I am, sir, yours truly,

W. M. GOODENOUGH,
Honorary treasurer, Oxford.

FROM A THANKFUL ONE

To the Editor:—In view of the number of unemployed, I frequently hear of married women or others who do not need to work, but want more luxury or pocket money. Surely it is most unfair of people to give posts to them, and of them to take work from those in real need. It seems to me the command. "Thou shalt not steal," is broken in various ways today. People buy cars and make the bills wait, and then go to the doctors to be cured of ailments which exercise would sometimes prevent. In the last few days we have been mercifully spared a terrible disaster, for had the fire at the Arena broken out when the building was filled that evening, there must have been many deaths. I hope that those who were there, and had not accepted Christ as their Saviour and Friend, will feel it to be one more call to them to do so, and their future life will be so much more blessed, and they will be safe for eternity, for Christ said: "Whosoever cometh to Me I will in no wise cast out."

"ONE OF THE THANKFUL ONES."
3070 Albany Road.

THE SHORTER WORK DAY

To the Editor—An anonymous writer in Thursday's Times says, and truly, that "as machinery goes on, taking our places the hours of labor will have to drop shorter to keep everyone employed." An up-to-the-minute government should start right now and draft all unemployed on to the farms, so that in another decade the average farmer may actually have a ten or even eight-hour day in sight. Once the farmer has an assured eight-hour day, if ever, we might even get down to a six-hour day. But the younger set will be the older set by that time.

Victoria's duty for the present is to warn all those who have flocked into the city, attracted by the high wages, that they will not be responsible for their keep or employment during this winter. Most Canadian cities have sent out this warning weeks ago. Meanwhile, it might be arranged that all non-union carpenters who are working steadily through the winter, each take under his especial care a more unfortunate union brother. We bear no malice.

WALTER FOSTER.

BORROWING MEANS SORROWING

To the Editor:—At the City Council meeting on Monday last I moved that a compilation of the city's loans since incorporation should be made and published in the year book for 1929. A majority of the City Council thought otherwise, preferring, I presume, that a kindly veil should protect the sensibilities of the taxpayers in regard to the harrowing waste of public money.

Under cover of this motion I showed the enormous cost of the loans extant according to the year book of 1924, but as time was limited I gave only the totals without the accompanying details.

May I supply to your readers the data which made up the total loans for ordinary purposes, two of which $50,000 have been repaid, and some serial debentures have been partially repaid, but the data is substantially correct. I have not included the $100,000 Hospital By-law of this year, which would partly replace the loans repaid in the column of the city's borrowings as shown in the year book of 1924.

| | Borrowed | Interest |
|---|---|---|
| Water loans | $ 3,938,125 | $ 2,630,090 |
| Sewers | 2,315,632 | 5,476,591 |
| Surface drains | 275,000 | 581,250 |
| Electric light | 130,000 | 192,750 |
| Fire protection | 96,625 | 94,656 |
| Schools | 1,334,948 | 1,520,573 |
| Streets and bridges | 816,000 | 913,825 |
| Miscellaneous | 1,762,183 | 2,080,134 |
| Totals | $10,669,587 | $13,897,899 |

In addition to the staggering amount of interest paid, the city treasury must supply the annual instalments required for the sinking fund, which will probably amount to $3,000,000 more. This, however, is not all. Owing to non-taxpaying land reversions, and unpaid local improvement taxes, extension securities debentures had to be issued in the neighborhood of $4,000,000 more, bearing heavy interest charges. There are also still running local improvement debentures, for which $1,857,398 will be required, together with interest. Nor is this all the story. The city has acquired the Esquimalt waterworks, for which bonds will have to be issued in due time. It is true that the water undertakings of the city will be met financially, both as to interest and sinking fund by the revenues derived, but it must be remembered that the huge liability still exists, and must be met, either by high water rates, or a tax rate. The interest and sinking fund accounts demand nearly $1,000,000 annually, and will not materially be lessened for at least five years. If we borrow no more, we may then look out upon brighter financial skies.

The story is not yet told. Besides the $1,000,000 for loan purposes, there are the following additional items.

1. Cost of advertising and printing each by-law.
2. Cost of bookkeeping, audit, etc.
3. Cost of annual collections.
4. Cost of reverted lands caused chiefly through over-taxation.
5. Higher license fees in order to ease land taxation.
6. Increased water rates.

It is an absolutely safe statement to make that for every dollar borrowed during the last thirty years not less than $2 must be paid, and $3 would be nearer the truth.

Your readers may not know that for some of the loans a heavy discount was paid; in some cases only 90 cents upon the dollar was received for the loan.

Why borrow?

W. MARCHANT,
Alderman.

FIVE-DAY WEEK

Letters to the Editor

FIVE-DAY WEEK

Very clearly and briefly, he describes the division of labor as a part solution of the unemployed problem. In another issue of The Times Mr. Walter Foster decries the five-day week as too contracted, and ill-affording the scope required for man's burning energy. There is no space here to deal with that vast problem in its entirety as it exists the world over, so I will confine my discussion to our own environment, and the modest, well behaved, though suffering, unemployed of our own city of Victoria, which might be considered an average representative Canadian city. We have so many jobs and double the amount of men to fill them. Those, while they fill them, receive a good wage; they live fairly well, and in most cases own their homes and keep a modest car, and pay their bills regularly, and are therefore looked upon with respect.

On the other hand, we have the other large body of men and women equally as efficient, whose latent energy burns out their very souls; and who only work intermittently while relieving the regular holders of the jobs and who are always waiting for the opening of the door, which seems to them forever closed. Many of this class, among whose numbers are engineers, carpenters, blacksmiths, draughtsmen, accountants, druggists, stenographers, bank employees, and countless other trades and professions, do not earn by their intermittent labor an average of forty dollars a month the whole year round. Through the peculiar conditions of life on this planet, we must absorb solid matter to sustain it, and the grocery bills pile high. Winter comes, and the last temporary job has sunk by two months into the limbo of the past, and the fuel bills become ascendant; and energetic workers with pride and self-respect have the mortification of watching their loved ones drag through a state of humiliation and semi-starvation till the coming spring.

We advertise our city; we have capitalized its beauty, and we have brought families here from the four corners of the earth. Those families have grown up and become identified with the city of Victoria; and is now their home town, and they are entitled to their share of labor.

Labor-saving machinery is being manufactured and becoming more prevalent every day; and even the labor to make that labor-saving machinery is rapidly minimizing; so rapidly that we will soon live in a world of artificial movement and sound. The super-abundant production of that machinery, if turned loose, would make a five-day week look very long indeed.

I believe that the thinker who conceived the thought of a five-day week has planted an acorn that will grow to a mighty oak, and solve a labor problem which our leaders have sought to solve by other means for the last few decades.

"Between the devil and the deep sea" well qualifies the alternatives which face the unemployed each winter. They can live in the sweet air of Victoria, and hungrily watch the fortunates holding down their jobs, or they can go over to Vancouver and walk about in the sleet, equally as hungry.

A five-day week would give the unemployed sufficient to keep the wolf from the door.

Ill fares the land, to hast'ning ills a prey,

one gnome slide down a great icicle and run around the castle to the front gates, and then there was an exciting scene as the gnomes made way for a great fur-clad figure, one that towered high above the dwarfs, to approach the railing of the balcony. The tall figure clapped his hands and all the gnomes stood at attention as if they were soldiers. The face above the fur suit was smiling and it flashed a set of white teeth from behind a mass of whiskers. "Whoa, Trouncer, whoa," Jimmie pulled the reindeer to a halt before the great doors of the ice castle and I lifted my fur cap to the figure above me.

"Welcome, Captain and party," a great voice roared. "You now are in teh kingdom of Santa Claus.

"I am going to give you the first handshake that ever was given to mortal man in my home. Come in."

We jumped from our sleighs, ran up the castle steps and soon shook hands with the great man whom we had traveled so many miles to see.

To-morrow: A day in Santa's Castle.

Mr. O'Connor continued his journalistic work almost until death overtook him, often being called "The dean of Fleet Street." British newspapers frequently carried his terse, witty comment on important questions of the day.

Had there been more Irishmen of the type of Rt. Hon. Thomas Power O'Connor back through the centuries of the Irish question, it is possible there would have been no such issue. Certainly, it would not have developed the acuteness that marked it at frequent intervals.

"Tay Pay," as he was more familiarly known to the public, always was a Nationalist—in fact, the last survivor of the Irish Nationalist Party. But he was not an agitator, nor did he express hatred for England.

Contrariwise, he advocated a better understanding between the English and Irish, and with the establishment of the Irish Free State there came to a reality one of the most cherished dreams of his long life. Once the treaty was signed, he urged the Irish, particularly those in the United States, to support it. Although a self-exile of Erin who had spent the greater part of his life in England, that fact, if anything, had redoubled his love for his native land.

VERSATILE JOURNALIST

While the part he played in the long struggle that led to the foundation of the Irish Free State stamped him as one of the great figures in that movement, Mr. O'Connor won fame and many honors in other lines of endeavor. Probably next to "Tay Pay," he was more frequently referred to as the "Father of the House of Commons," in which he had held a seat since 1880. He was honored by being made a member of the Privy Council and enjoyed the reputation of being one of the most versatile and famous journalists of Europe.

When he reached the seventy-fifth milestone of life, Mr. O'Connor was feted by some 200 members of the British Parliament, a signal tribute in which every party was represented to do him honor. Since that time the recurring anniversaries of his birthday had received world-wide recognition, the venerable statesman receiving congratulatory messages from rulers, heads of governments and prominent persons in virtually every country in the world.

NO CLASH

His wide popularity was said to have been due largely to his policy of never permitting political differences to interfere with personal relations. As to his two principal activities in life, he always regarded himself as a journalist first and a politician after. His advancing years did not lessen his love of life and when he was seventy-seven he expressed the hope that he would live to be 100. A year before, in a message to the youth of England, he said: "Life is a great adventure. Live every hour of it. Don't be buried until you are dead."

Mr. O'Connor was born at Athlone, Ireland, October 5, 1848, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor. He was educated at the College of the Immaculate Conception, Athlone, and Queen's College, Galway, where he obtained his master's degree with the highest honors. He was only eighteen when he earned his bachelor of arts degree.

Newspaper work beckoned Mr. O'Connor, as it did many of the members of the old Irish Nationalist Parliamentary Party, and upon completing his college course he became a cub reporter on the staff of Saunder's News Letter in Dublin. Three years later he went to London, where he was engaged as sub-editor of Lord Burnham's Telegraph.

ENTERED HOUSE IN 1880

Ten years after his arrival in London he was elected to the House of Commons as member for Galway. That was in 1880. On being returned as the member for Galway and Liverpool in 1885, he chose the latter seat and since then had been sent back at each successive election.

In 1885 Mr. O'Connor married a Mrs. Wright.

SUPPORTED PARNELL

With the beginning of his journalistic career in London, Mr. O'Connor took an interest in politics and for many years was one of the closest and most important supporters of Parnell. When he entered Parliament he immediately took his place as one of the most eloquent and outstanding members of the Irish party. Soon he became head of the Irish organization in England, wielding an influence that turned the Irish vote in England against Gladstone in 1885 and thus paved the way for the introduction of the first Home Rule Bill next year.

The early years of his career in London were not without hardships, which are described as "terrible" in "Memoirs of an Old Parliamentarian," which Mr. O'Connor published not long ago. The volume also recalls some of the thrilling episodes of the days of Parnell, the "uncrowned king."

The story of a shattered romance is narrated after a description of the "terrible" years during which he was fighting the wolf of hunger.

"And in the midst of these horrors, and in the single room I occupied in an Islington lodging house," Mr. Connor wrote, "I found myself on a Saturday evening with just three cents in my pocket, and in my hands a letter which began with a cold 'Dear Sir,' and was the breaking off of an engagement to a woman whom I regarded as the centre and the only hope of the world for me. . . . I felt it was not safe for me to remain in my room alone with a razor there—a very blunt and much-worn razor—but good enough to put an end to a life, desperate now under agonizing sorrow."

He then related that he went out and tramped from Islington to Camberwell New-road, to look up an Irish friend. The latter was out for a night's jollification and his wife "in hideous anxiety" was waiting up for him.

"So, we sat opposite each other," wrote "Tay Pay," equally miserable, until our common hope returned."

LIFE OF DISRAELI

It was in the British Museum that Mr. O'Connor actually found the road that led to fame. He read the volumes of Bucks Gazette recording Disraeli's early years as a politician and from them wrote a "life" of Disraeli, which in one bound lifted him in the ranks of the most discussed authors of the day.

Then it was that he was invited to stand as a candidate for the House of Commons for Galway, raised $475 on his "Disraeli" to pay expenses and returned to London an M.P.

WORK AS EDITOR

During his career as a journalist in London Mr. O'Connor had represented newspapers across the Atlantic as correspondent and was publisher of several newspapers which he established. He founded and was first editor of The Sun, The Star, The Weekly Sun, M.A.P. and T.P.'s Weekly.

He was a versatile and prolific writer and in addition to his numerous newspaper articles and a large number of essays he was author of "Lord Beaconsfield—A Biography"; "The Parnell Movement"; "Gladstone's House of Commons"; "Old Love Stories"; "Napoleon"; "The Phantom Millions."

What was regarded as one of his most remarkable journalistic feats was the biography he wrote of Joseph Chamberlain at the time of the latter's death in 1914.

At 8 o'clock in the afternoon, The Daily Telegraph called Mr. O'Connor in the House of Commons requesting him to write the biography of the dead statesman. He began the task at 6.30 o'clock and in three hours completed a sketch of 6,000 words. A half-hour later he was at a dinner at the Greek Embassy to deliver the principal address of the evening.

Mr. O'Connor was among the first of the Irish journalists in London to use the typewriter in his work.

FRIENDLY RELATIONS

Interested in maintaining amicable relations among England, Ireland and the United States, Mr. O'Connor on his several visits to North America always sought to strengthen those ties. He issued an appeal to the Irish in the United States to accept the Irish treaty as a settlement of the differences which so long had divided the English and Irish people.

"I wish to tell the Irishmen of America," he said, "that there could be no action more stupid and mischievous than trying to keep up the feud between England and Ireland and the United States. It would be injuring all hopes of restoration of good relations in the world."

On another occasion, in August, 1924, when he was president of the board of film censors, Mr. O'Connor attracted considerable attention in the United States by prohibiting the showing in Britain of David W. Griffith's motion picture, "America." The film, based upon the American Revolution, Mr. O'Connor said, "was calculated to cause bad relationship between British and Americans."

The universal popularity of Mr. O'Connor was again evidenced in July, of this year, when friends of all political parties assembled about him to present him with a trust fund of $50,000. All paid tribute to his long career of achievements and Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald, who presided, characterized him as a "splendid example of a fighting Irishman."

IN WHEEL CHAIR

Despite the fact that the condition of his health compelled him to sit in a wheel chair while receiving his guests, Mr. O'Connor was in the usual good humor that had been an outstanding characteristic of his life. After graciously thanking the donors for their substantial tribute of friendship, he accepted the trust fund with the remark: "I never yet have known an Irishman to refuse money."

Mr. O'Connor did not smoke nor chew tobacco, but indulged in the old-fashioned habit of taking snuff. He contended snuff had a soothing effect quite different from tobacco used in other forms.

Italian Girl Liked to Act Out the Operas

Amelita's mother could not find her big butcher knife. She looked all over the kitchen for it. It was time to get dinner, and she needed it.

"I wonder," she said to herself, "if the children could have taken it."

She went upstairs to find them. Amelita and her brothers had been playing together all afternoon, very busily, in a room off by themselves.

As she heared the door of the room, she heard Amelita singing in a very dramatic voice. She pushed open the door, and saw Amelita, her hair streaming about her shoulders, and dressed in some sort of strange costume, waving the butcher knife, and singing at the top of her voice, while the brothers looked on.

"What is this?" she cried.

"We were playing opera," explained Amelita "and we took the butcher knife because this is a tragedy, and everybody has to be killed at the end."

Playing opera became real opera, for Amelita Galli-Curci, whose birthday is to-day, is one of the greatest of our opera singers. She was born in Italy.

"Comfort—indoors? I'll take a well-cushioned divan—a gay-colored hearthrug—and a brisk little Gas Fireplace. And not even a blizzard from Greenland will disturb my scheme of things?"

A happy combination of comfort features give the Gas Fireplace preference in modern homes. There are no logs or coal scuttles to be lugged. No fires to be built and poked. No ashes to be hauled away.

The warmth it gives is as steady as the heat in your oven. And just as easy to regulate.

THOUSAND DELEGATES TO PARLEY

Engineers Who Gathered in Japan Represented Twenty-six Nations

Canadian Presides Over One Section; 200 Papers Presented

Over 1,000 delegates gathered for the World Engineering Congress at Tokio, Japan, last month, representing twenty-six nations, according to E. H. Fritch of Chicago, secretary of the American Railway Engineers' Association, who arrived here this morning aboard the C.P.R. liner Empress of Asia.

Mr. Fritch, who is en route from Japan to his home in Chicago, said it was the largest conference he had ever attended. Engineers of every blood and nationality were present and for ten days, from October 29 to November 7, discussions of considerable interest and importance were conducted.

Something like 200 papers were presented during the parley, Mr. Fritch continued. The gathering was conducted in twelve sections covering various phases of the engineering profession and delegates could sit in on any session they wished.

CANADIANS SPEAK

Mr. Fritch mentioned in this connection that J. M. R. Fairbairn, chief engineer for the Canadian Pacific Railway, presided over one of the sections. Papers were submitted by F. W. Alexander, assistant chief engineer of the C.P.R., and C. B. Brown, chief engineer of construction for the C.N.R.

The opening ceremony, at which Prince Chichibu, brother of the Emperor, and Prime Minister Hamaguchi were two of the prominent speakers, was held in the municipal hall of Tokio and sessions were afterwards conducted in the Parliament buildings.

English was the prevailing language at the sessions of the conference, Mr. Fritch said, but speakers were given the privilege of addressing the delegates in their own languages. Thus speeches were given in German, French, Italian, Japanese and Chinese, all of which were interpreted into English.

The proceedings of the conference are to be published in twenty bound volumes, he said.

COLLEGE MOURNS J. MARR'S DEATH

Well-known Professor of Classics at Victoria College Succumbs in Vancouver

John Marr, B.A., M.A., Aberdeen, assistant professor of classics and former registrar at Victoria College, died in Vancouver Saturday night after a lingering and painful illness, according to word received by Professor P. H. Elliott, principal of the College, yesterday.

In the death of Mr. Marr, Victoria has lost one of her foremost students of the classics. Since joining the Victoria institution in 1927, he had shown a keen interest in his subjects and had imparted much classical lore to the pupils who studied under him. His efficient and kindly methods had endeared him to the hearts of all who were in his classes and the announcement of his death is received with deep feeling by scores of students and educationalists here.

In addition to being an exceptionally able professor, Mr. Marr always showed a keen interest in the activities of the College, taking great delight in watching its teams in their games.

Before coming to Victoria he held a post in King Edward High School, Vancouver, to which institution he went after being principal of Chilliwack High School.

Professor Elliott will attend the funeral in Vancouver on Wednesday.

Mr. Marr was fifty-two years of age.

Death Ends Sleep Of Japanese After Over Two Weeks

After sleeping in a state of semi-coma for over two weeks, Yatsuyoshi Goto, coal passer aboard the Japanese liner Mishima Maru, died in St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday.

The cause of death, according to Dr. A. E. McMicking, who attended the sleeping man, was T.B. meningitis, for which there is no known cure. It is a disease originating from tuberculosis which affects the spine and the lower part of the brain.

Goto was taken from the Mishima Maru on her arrival from the Orient last Friday night. All efforts of medical men here to save his life were unavailing.

DR. BUCHANAN GIVES TALK TO STUDENTS HERE

Dean of Faculty of Arts at U.B.C. Praises Work of Former College Students

Paying tribute to the graduates of Victoria College and emphasizing the necessity of more research work in science, Dr. Daniel Buchanan, Dean of the Faculty of Arts at the University of British Columbia, addressed the student body of the local institution this morning.

At the opening of his address, Dr. Buchanan noted that several students from Victoria College, who had continued their education at the University of British Columbia, had won scholarships during former years. He expected others to carry off further awards in the future, and hinted that a local student had a chance of winning the Governor-General's medal this year.

The general character of Victoria students in the U.B.C. was a compliment to their training in the college, Dr. Buchanan continued, saying that the majority of them were successful in their examinations, and were a credit to the university.

MORE RESEARCH WORK

During his talk, he referred to the speech of Premier King at the university last week. The Premier had said that the Government had been looking for university trained men for political work in the broader sense. He had illustrated the advantages of a college education in these fields by referring to the work of several prominent public men with university training.

CONTACT WITH ORIENT

In conclusion, Dr. Buchanan impressed upon his hearers the importance of the youth of British Columbia in world affairs of the future. Since the young men and women of the Province were in close contact with the United States and the Orient, he considered it of vital importance that they should approach the peoples of these countries in the correct attitudes.

Professor P. H. Elliott thanked the speaker for his address and called upon Dr. E. B. Paul, principal emeritus of Victoria College, for a few words.

Dr. Paul spoke of the founding of the local college and its affiliation with the University of British Columbia. He dealt with its growth since the beginning, and expressed the thought that in Dr. Buchanan Victoria College had a warm and strong friend.

The address was greeted with enthusiastically by the students.

Ideas for future activities of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be called for at a general meeting to be held Friday night. The effective speaking group of the Junior Chamber will meet Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Rainfall Was Welcome By Electric Co.

Jordan River Storage Replenished By Heavy Precipitation Over Week-end

Prospect of Curtailing Use of Electric Power in Victoria Has Been Eliminated

The week-end rainfall came in the nick of time, from the point of view of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited, rain having fallen at Jordan River in great abundance from early on Friday evening until yesterday morning.

The driest summer recorded at Jordan River was experienced this year, and the slight rainfalls of October were of little value. The Jordan River system being essentially a storage basin, without feeder tributaries, the reserves were lowered until officers of the company envisioned the possible necessity of appealing for public retrenchment in power consumption.

For several weeks the auxiliary steam at Brentwood Bay has been operating at full capacity, twenty-four hours daily. In addition the fullest use possible has been made of the Goldstream plant, operated with water purchased from the city. Until a week ago this unit was running twenty-four hours daily, under agreement with P. M. Preston, city water comptroller, but the supply was recently reduced to conserve the city's reserves.

Chinese Hurt; Another Fined In Opium Raid

Lee Ming, Chinese, suffered a broken ankle, and Wong Foo was fined $50 in Police Court for being the inmate of an opium den as the result of a raid by police Saturday night on premises at 602 Fisgard Street.

Lee is in hospital to-day nursing the injury he sustained when he missed his footing while trying to escape the police, according to Chief of Police John Fry, who told the court of the raid when Wong was arraigned this morning.

While police battered in the "strong" door to the premises the two Chinese fled together, but were overtaken after Lee suffered his mishap. Both were taken to police headquarters and Lee was later taken to hospital.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

25-CENT RISE PREDICTED NOW IN WHEAT PRICE

Washington, Nov. 18.—In its monthly review of the price situation the Department of Agriculture has reported "the outlook for wheat prices is for some advance within the next two months."

After asserting the world crop was about 530,000,000 bushels short of last year the report said the "total supply of wheat available for the season is about 360,000,000 bushels short of last year."

"Relief from the present depression appears to be in sight," the summary said, "following a slackening of shipments from Argentine and the Danube countries and a slackening of marketings in Europe, the United States and Canada."

"This reduction in world supply," the report added, "would ordinarily increase the average price in world markets about thirty-five cents a bushel over the average of the past season when British parcels prices averaged $1.29 per bushel, but the advance in the average now seems likely to be only tweny-five cents a bushel."

WHEAT VISIBLE INCREASES

Winnipeg, Nov. 18 (Solloway, Mills Service)—Canadian wheat visible today stands at 219,348,995 bushels, against 216,845,654 last week and 170,160,122 for the same week last year.

American wheat visible to-day stands at 191,292,000 bushels, against 191,821,000 last week, and 135,254,000 bushels for the same week last year.

Stocks of wheat at Port William to-day total 55,783,000 bushels, compared with 55,483,123 bushels last week and 36,178,186 for the same week last year.

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, Nov. 18. — Wheat: Encouraged by the strength in Liverpool and Buenos Ayres and unfavorable crop reports from Argentine, the local wheat market was very bullish at the start this morning when prices advanced from 2½ to 4 cents over the close on Saturday, the deferred months being the strongest.

While there was some good buying credited to seaboard houses and a little short covering, the bulk of the trade appeared to be local and commission houses taking on more wheat with sentiment decidely bullish. However, the buying power played out as the short interest existing was only small, and export business very moderate, and when the longs commenced taking profits by liquidating, there was no one that wahted the wheat, and prices started slipping away until the whole of the early advance had been lost.

One of the leading shippers in this market reported a good buying power over the week-end in Manitoba, but all others reported only a load or two. Direct exporters offered nothing over night. The local cash market did not reflect very much done, as no one wanted any wheat to speak of.

Neither American nor Canadian mills were doing anything. Spreads were generally unchanged, with offerings very light. Local shippers who were selling their stocks in the east are not inclined to replace them, as there appears to be plenty at or near seaboard to take care of this winter's demand. The United States visible decrease was much smaller than expected.

Coarse Grains: There was some good buying of oats and barley during the first part of the day when prices advanced sharply, but there was considerable profit taking by longs, and prices eased off to around the previous close. Eastern Canada was again a fair buyer of oats from stocks already in the east. There was nothing doing in rye, which follows the trend of wheat.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Wheat: Prices for wheat had nearly a 12 cent straight away rally from the low point of last week. Naturally this caused a lot of profit taking in italef, and after advancing sharply early the market reacted to below the previous close. The bulls were disappointed in the action of stock market and also the small decrease in the visible supply. Early advances were due to strong cables and to bullish Argentine advices indicating black rust damage with revision downward in estimates considered probable. Buenos Ayres came 3⅛ up at midday and Liverpool closed 2⅞ to 3½ higher.

The market will undoubtedly be affected by the Argentine news to a great extent. On passage stocks decreased 1,648,000 bushels with total now 22,000,000 bushels less than a year ago. This largely offsets the larger port stocks in Europe.

Canadian marketings Saturday were only 431,000 bushels vs. 4,071,000 a year ago. No. 2 hard wheat at Gulf was firmer, selling one cent over December best relative price in a long time.

Local spot basis half to one and half cent up. Washington developments appear to foreshadow some constructive work in reference to the wheat market. The reaction from the top was natural and possibly will go further, but thin a conservative bullish policy is best here.

Corn: The reluctance to making big commitments on buying side pending the movement of new corn was again evidenced to-day, and prices reacted from the early top.

The cash situation shows no weakness. Cash demand fair, sales 98,000 bushels. Country sales nothing and cash basis unchanged to one cent up.

Weather forecast was for unsettled conditions. Lock for a two sided market and for the present would wait for the setbacks on which to buy.

Oats: Trade fairly active with a sharp reaction following an early bulge. Cash demand fair, with sales of 91,000 bushels. Can see nothing weak in the oats situation, but the market naturally will be affected by other grains.

Rye: Lost early advances, but there was fair buying support on the dips. Market probably be governed mainly by wheat.

Despite Stock Break, Woolworth Head Looks For Big Christmas

New York, Nov. 18.—F. W. Woolworth Company, five and ten cent stores, look for a good fall and Christmas shopping business, according to the statement to-day of H. T. Parsons, president. His statement on the business outlook follows:

"Business of the Woolworth Company's large chain stores has been showing increases over the last year in each week since the break in stock market prices. We have made a thorough survey of our stock of merchandise and its condition and in our opinion it is in strong shape.

"In conditions such as we have witnessed, it might be natural to find cases of distress, with merchandise being offered by manufacturers to large buyers like ourselves. However, we have not found any instances of this. Neither have we had any regrets to anticipate payment on merchandise to manufacturers."

SEEK B.C. LUMBER IN WEST INDIES

Vancouver Island Products Have Quality Reputation, Says Trade Envoy

R. T. Young, Canadian Trade Commissioner, whose headquarters are in Port of Spain, Trinidad, who is visiting Victoria to-day, conferred with Chamber of Commerce officials.

Since arriving in Victoria Friday, Mr. Young has conferred with several of the leading manufacturers in this district in regard to the development of Canada's trade in the territory which he covers.

He reports that the products of certain Victoria manufactuyers find a ready market in the West Indies, in so far as they have gained a reputation for quality. He further states that Vancouve Island lumber in particular is imported into the West Indian Territory in fairly large quantities, and expresses the opnion that present conditions there point to a heavier demand for lumber in the near future.

Mr. Young will proceed direct to Ottawa on the afternoon boat for Vancouver.

London, Nov. 19.—Quiet, steady conditions prevailed on the stock exchange to-day, the gilt-edged issues maintaining the improvement of Friday, when discussion of Thursday's bank rate reduction forced them up.

The Anglo-American favorites moved narrowly, pending the Wall Street opening. Hydros were 37; International holding 6¼, nickel 22 and Brazilian Traction 42.

PLANTS RECALL WORKERS TO JOBS

New York, Nov. 18.—More than 10,000 workers in automobile plants at Toledo returned to work to-day.

Willys-Overland to-day resumed operations, with 7,500 men on a five-day-a-week schedule.

Chevrolet to-day reopened its Ohio plant with 1,500 men and the Mather Spring Company recalled 400 men to their jobs.

New York, Nov. 18.—G. M. Verity, president of the American Rolling Mills, when asked his views on the possible effect of the slump in the stock market on business conditions, to-day said:

"All things considered, the first half of this year represented the best period the steel industry as a whole has had in many years, with a good demand, low costs and sound values the main factors. As a result, there is to-day no inflation in either prices or inventories.

"Because of the rapid gait at which it has been going for the last four years, industry showed some slight fatigue prior to the reaction in the stock market and business is naturally somewhat quieter now, but there have been no cancellations. The ups and downs of our securities markets have no direct effect on soundly organized business. Such fluctuations affect the individual owner of securities."

Money Eases And Bonds Rise

New York, Nov. 18.—Further easing of money rates was accompanied by rising bond prices to-day as the market returned to a more normal trading basis.

Time funds were quoted by several leading dealers at 5½ to 5¾ per cent for all maturities and some expressed the belief that lower rates were justified by present conditions. The renewal rate for call money was again 5½ per cent, but late in the forenoon at 4 per cent quotation appeared in the outside market.

The rising bond list was again led by the U.S. governments. Liberty 4th 4¼s quickly touched a new high in the early trading.

With stocks seeking lower ground, active convertibles tended lower, although recessions were mostly small. International Telephone 4½s lost part of a 3-point gain and American Telephone 4½s, after selling two points higher, fell slightly below the Friday close. American I. G. Chemical 5½s and Missouri Pacific 5½ gained about a point each.

SHERRITT-GORDON BREAKS UNDER 4.00; NICKEL EARNS $1.11 A SHARE IN 9 MOS.

(By Stobie, Forlong & Co.)

Toronto, Nov. 18.—Trading on the Toronto Standard Stock and Mining Exchange was light in volume with prices, under indifferent trading, receding a few points. No drastic changes were recorded.

Morning's session was featured by bear activity in Sherritt-Gordon in the mining section and strength in the oils as a group.

International Nickel opened 30.75, last closing price, touched a high of 31.50 in the first hour of trading and closed at 30.00. Net profits of the International Nickel Company and subsidary for the nine months ended September 30 amounted to over $16,000,000, or equivalent to $1.11 a share on the common stock, after allowing for preferred dividends.

Noranda receded from first sale at 35.75, last sale at 35.25. With Noranda now on a dividend basis of $3.00 yearly, accumulation of the stock is anticipated. It is expected that Noranda will double its capacity almost immediately.

Sherritt-Gordon opened higher at 4.10, but at the day's high point of 4.15 profit-taking occurred, driving the price down to close of 3.85.

Sudbury Basin and Falconbridge Nickel also receded slightly, evidently in sympathetic movement, but Ventures traded upward to close, with net gains of 25 cents, 4.25. Falconbridge, in light trading, closed 10 cents down at 6.90, and Sudbury Basin showed loss of 5 cents at 4.90.

Issues closing firm at Friday's last quotes included Arno, Dome, Hollinger, Kirkland Lake, Manitoba Basin, Newbec, Premier, Sisco, Teck Hughes and Wright Hargreaves. Other mining issues closed from one to five points lower.

Oils showed a firm tone this morning with Ajax the heavy trader of the session from an opening at 1.91 to close of 2.05, under steady demand. East Crest opened 20 cents higher at 1.55 and appreciated 20 cents to close of 1.65. Nordon showed more than usual activity to close of 1.35. Associated closed with net gain of 5. C. and E. was firm to close of 3.40. Dalhousie at close of 1.85, up 5. Mayland firm at last close of 3.25. Sterling Pacific closed 1.27. Southwest Peteroleum up 5 at 1.30. Calmont showed strength to close at 1.65. Home Oil in one sale was 12.50.

PLANTS RECALL WORKERS TO JOBS

New York, Nov. 18.—More than 10,000 workers in automobile plants at Toledo returned to work to-day.

Willys-Overland to-day resumed operations, with 7,500 men on a five-day-a-week schedule.

Chevrolet to-day reopened its Ohio plant with 1,500 men and the Mather Spring Company recalled 400 men to their jobs.

New York, Nov. 18.—G. M. Verity, president of the American Rolling Mills, when asked his views on the possible effect of the slump in the stock market on business conditions, to-day said:

"All things considered, the first half of this year represented the best period the steel industry as a whole has had in many years, with a good demand, low costs and sound values the main factors. As a result, there is to-day no inflation in either prices or inventories.

"Because of the rapid gait at which it has been going for the last four years, industry showed some slight fatigue prior to the reaction in the stock market and business is naturally somewhat quieter now, but there have been no cancellations. The ups and downs of our securities markets have no direct effect on soundly organized business. Such fluctuations affect the individual owner of securities."

Money Eases And Bonds Rise

New York, Nov. 18.—Further easing of money rates was accompanied by rising bond prices to-day as the market returned to a more normal trading basis.

Time funds were quoted by several leading dealers at 5½ to 5¾ per cent for all maturities and some expressed the belief that lower rates were justified by present conditions. The renewal rate for call money was again 5½ per cent, but late in the forenoon at 4 per cent quotation appeared in the outside market.

The rising bond list was again led by the U.S. governments. Liberty 4th 4¼s quickly touched a new high in the early trading.

With stocks seeking lower ground, active convertibles tended lower, although recessions were mostly small. International Telephone 4½s lost part of a 3-point gain and American Telephone 4½s, after selling two points higher, fell slightly below the Friday close. American I. G. Chemical 5½s and Missouri Pacific 5½ gained about a point each.

The demand for bonds of standard types centred in high grade issues, with industrials taking a prominent part in the moderate advance.

MARKET QUIETENS AND SALES DROP OFF; INDUSTRIES PLAN CHEER

New York, Nov. 18 (B.C. Bond)—At the close of the market this afternoon the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials stood at 227.56, off 1.17 points for the day; and for twenty rails at 140.23 off 1.02 points.

Sales dropped down to 2,737,000, nearly half the total for the two-hour session of Saturday.

New York, Nov. 18.—At last, the stock market to-day did what many have been praying for—it quietened down, with sales dropping under the 3,000,000-share mark, and fluctuations small.

The firm tone at the opening was not sustained and most of the active stocks closed lower for the day. U.S. Steel common at 160 close, was off about four points from Friday's close.

Unofficial reports from steel centres told of further lowering of operations and increasing hesitation.

Buying power in the market as a whole was small and it was rumored that professional bears, recalling the enormous easy profits of the last few weeks, were again attempting to exert pressure and force liquidation.

However, there was not much stock brought out and activity on the short side to-day may possibly have strengthened the technical position.

DOUBTFUL OF RALLIES

"We are not convinced that rallies will hold, although we do believe that the bottom has been reached in many instances," Prince and Whitely said in a statement to-day.

Hornblower and Weeks said: "We would not be surprised to see the pace of trading slow down. With this, fluctuations will tend to be limited to a narrower range."

NO STEADY RISE EXPECTED

The Wall Street Mirror issued the following to its clients:

"More than ever is it a time for conservatism and intelligence in making market commitments. While it is firmly believed in high quarters that the lows in a great majority of cases have been seen, neyertheless, traders and investors should not assume that prices are going to move steadily upward. There is no reason now to be other than bullish, but bullishness should be tempered with common sense.

SLOWING DOWN SOUGHT

"Stocks to be listed in the first group as buying possibilities are those of companies which will continue to show good earnings, regardless of the state of the nation. This group includes the food stocks, chain stores, groceries, tobaccos and possibly motion pictures. Stocks of companies which are the things to be listed as so-called luxuries should be left alone.

"The thing to be most hoped for now in the market is a slowing down of trading. This, in itself, will bring steadier prices and will give both the investor and the trader an opportunity to make up his mind quietly, regarding future market commitments."

KENNECOTT DIVIDENDS

Kennecott Copper to-day declared its regular quarterly dividend of $1.25, payable on January 2 to stock of record November 29.

MORGAN RETURNS

J. P. Morgan returns this week. His arrival will bring together again the triumvirate that is given credit for bringing about the reparations agreement. His two associates at the Paris meetings, Thomas Lamong and Owen D. Young, were the men of the hour during the market crisis. Individually and together they dominated all the important banking and buisness conferences that were held.

No Report of Plane Hop By North Party

Radio Has Been Silent Since Last Tuesday Regarding McAlpine Group

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—To-day the McAlpine Party still was out of touch with the civilized world. Rescued only a little more than two weeks ago from Cambridge Bay, Victoria Island, after being missing two months in the Arctic country, Colonel C. D. H. McAlpine and his seven companions, accompanied by a rescue air party of five men, have not been heard from since last Tuesday morning. They are on their way to Winnipeg and their several homes.

Harrison Issue Rapidly Absorbed

Issue of a $120,000 7 per cent. preferred shares of the Harrison Hot Springs Hotel Co. Limited has been rapidly absorbed by the Victoria and Vancouver investing public.

H. W. Miller, manager of the Royal Financial Corporation, which placed the issue on sale about a week ago, reports that 1,000 of the 1,200 shares have been taken up. The preferred shares were offered at $100 per share and accrued dividend and carried a bonus of one share of common stock, rated at $10 par value.

CIVIC POLLS TAME AFFAIR IS FORECAST

where, with few exceptions, those who have announced their intention of contesting office have been repeatedly before the public in one capacity or another.

Trustee J. L. Beckwith, in response to inquiries to-day, said he was very undecided and had reached no decision as to whether he will offer himself for re-election to the school board or not. Carew Martin, who contested a council seat last year, said he was definitely out of the running this year. A similar answer was given by former Commissioner and Alderman A. M. Aitken, who said he had retired permanently from public life.

Unless additional names are filed on nomination day, December 5, the elections will be confined to a contest for five seats on the City Council. Two seats of the four seats vacant on the school board remain at present without any suggested candidates to fill them.

The roster of those who have declared themselves to date is as follows:

CANDIDATES NAMED

For Mayor—Mayor Anscomb.

With the exception of the mayoralty and council offices, service is voluntary. The office of chief magistrate of the city carries with it $4,000 annually, while aldermen receive $600 a year. Trustees and police commissioners are unpaid.

Last minute declarations are expected to add somewhat to the number of candidates in the field, but general disappointment was being expressed to-day that a more vigorous interest in civic affairs is not evident.

200,000 VISIT GRAVE SHRINE IN ONE DAY

The recent reported healing of a young Boston girl, with the publication of her picture, is believed to have started the pilgrimage. More cures were reported yesterday.

MANY POLICE AT SCENE

All day long and late into the night two lines of visitors, among them blind and crippled men and women, invalids on stretchers, diseased persons, both young and old filed slowly by the grave. Tens of thousands were unable to enter the cemetery. A force of 200 police, mounted and on foot, firemen, Legionnaires and cemetery workers struggled to prevent disorder.

Roads leading to the cemetery twenty blocks away were jammed with pilgrims on foot, motorists and double lines of parked ars. Automobiles from every New England state, Canada, the Midwest and two from Arizona were seen in the traffic.

Twice during the last week Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, visited the cemetery. He declined to make any official statement. "All we know is what we see with our eyes," he said, "and you can see as much as I can."

SAFETY OF FOOD IF WAR COMES IS DISCUSSED

These objections are being carefully chartered, and at the present distance from January 21, date of the beginning of the conference voyage, they appear no less formidable than did those in the offing at the opening of the negotiations between the United States and Great Britain.

The principal obstacles for the present occupy three places upon the conference chart. Close at hand lies the question of parity between the Italian and Freinch navies. Hard by is the Japanese desire for a cruiser ratio of seven to the ten for the United States and Great Britain, instead of three to five as laid down for capital ships at the Washington arms conference.

SUBMARINE QUESTION.

Paralleling these is the shoal of submarine limitation around which the 1921 conference here could not be steered. France, Italy and Japan regard the undersea boats as their most effective weapon of defence, while Great Britain, out of the lessons of the World War, naturally views them as the greatest menace to its safety in the event of hostilities.

SOLLOWAY DOUBLES WIRE SERVICE HERE

Great increase in business, since opening here last month, resulted in Solloway, Mills and Co., to-day putting in a second leased wire to Victoria.

This now gives the Victoria office one leased wire running through to Toronto on mines and oil markets, while the new wire will give a continuous quotation service from the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, Dr. Warnock, Victoria manager, said. He said this was the fastest and only continuous grain service coming through from Winnipeg, and placed traders here on a par with those on the prairies, both as regards speed and the rate of commission.

Western officials of the Solloway, Mills organization visited Victoria yesterday and ordered extensions because of the increased business here.

LIKE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

"It shows the value of such a round table conference as the Institute of Pacific Relations conducts in settling questions of international import," he continued. "All matters come under consideration, are thrashed out in a friendly manner and a feeling of peace is bound to ensue. In this way the Institute acts after the style of the League of Nations."

From all angles, the conference was a distinct success, Mr. Birks said. The Canadian delegation, headed by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., and Sir John Aird, for the banking interests, gave a splendid account of itself.

Trouble in Manchuria naturally led to this being one of the foremost topics for discussion, he added. Extra-territorial rights in China and the European concessions were closely examined.

MAY COME HERE IN 1931

Possibility that the 1931 conference of the Institute might be held in Vancouver or Victoria was mentioned by Mr. Birks. While nothing definite had been decided with regard to this matter, he pointed out that there was also considerable feeling that it should be held in China owing to the fact that Japan had been the scene of the parley this year and things would be evened by giving it to China in 1931. Canada had been suggested for the next conference, however, he said.

Mr. Birks proceeded with the Empress liner to Vancouver, where he will address a meeting of the Board of Trade on Wednesday, giving his views of the conference. He will then leave for the east.

Only two of the Canadian delegates, Mr. Birks and Rev. John McKay, of Toronto, returned by the Asia. Most of the other members of the party will come back by the Empress of Canada on her next trip.

WHEAT IN WESTERN ELEVATORS TOTALS 159,000,000 BUSHELS

RECEIVED AT ELEVATORS

Receipts of wheat at all classes of elevators in the western grain inspection division during the last week swelled the stocks in store to record figures.

Elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur were choked with grain totaling 77,161,499 bushels on November 15 last, compared with 76,519,610 bushels a week before and 47,200,072 bushels on the same day last year.

Shipments from the head of the lakes totaled slightly less than 3,500,000 bushels the past week, while receipts amounted to more than 4,000,000 bushels.

Lakehead ports 55,782,802 bushels, interior terminal elevators 10,829,206 bushels, interior private elevators 7,074,797 bushels, country elevators 74,156,774 bushels, Vancouver 9,947,520 bushels, Victoria 3,823 bushels, Prince Rupert 1,090,585 bushels.

The visible oats supply is given as 14,424,276 bushels on November 15, 1929, as compared with 10,098,617 bushels a year ago, barely 21,554,800 bushels compared with 14,415,249 last year, and rye 5,927,147 bushels compared with 3,394,336 bushels on November 15, 1928.

The supply of flaxseed is estimated at 1,090,073 bushels, which is less than in 1928, when a visible supply of 1,519,296 bushels was on hand.

PREMIER KING IS TO ADDRESS LARGE CALGARY AUDIENCE

RESTED ON TRAIN

The train journey from the British Columbia coast was a delightful break from the busy days Mr. King had had at Victoria and Vancouver. Three locomotives pulled the long train to which his private car was attached up through the Kicking Horse Pass to the Great Divide, after it sped down through the mountains into Alberta, the countryside white with the first considerable snowfall of the season. People on skis were out at Banff.

The large flocks of sheep which add picturesqueness to the landscape of the foothills were making the best of the situation in which they found themselves in the snow-covered fields. They were of particular interest to Mr. King because sheep raising is probably his favorite type of farming and he has had as many as 160 at his summer home in the Gatineau Hills.

The snow brought joy to the farmers in this part of the prairies, where the fields were much in need of the moisture.

Grace Presbyterian Church was filled to capacity when Mr. King attended service there last night. After the service the Prime Minister shook hands with many members of the congregation and those from other churches who had taken the opportunity of renewing acquaintence made with him at previous visits to Calgary.

RUBIO WILL BE NEXT PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

The successful candidate, who has been civil engineer and soldier as well as politician, spent election day in the village of Urbapam, Michoacan, where he formerly was Governor and where his family lives.

THREAT OF FORCE

Vasconelos was said here to have passed election day at San Blas, Sinaloa. There was no confirmation that he would carry into effect frequent threats of himself and partisans to set himself up as rightfully elected President, maintaining his claims by force.

Despite the bloodshed and rioting, Mexican officials professed to be satisfied at what was called "a comparatively quiet election day."

Cavalry and infantry contingents paraded streets of the principal cities, rushing quickly in answer to frequent emergency calls, probably, it was said, preventing worse conditions.

POLICE ON TRUCK KILLED

Available figures showed eight killed in Mexico City and six in other parts of the republic, with five policemen killed at Toluca when the truck in which they were riding was wrecked. The wounded, some of them seriously injured, totaled more than fifty, of whom twenty-five reside in Mexico City.

The principal rioting in Mexico City occurred within a few blocks of the National Palace, at the juncture of La Avenida Madera and La Calle Bolivar. Several trucks of Rubiotas clashed with Vasconcelistas listening to speeches from their campaign headquarters, located there.

In an exchange of shots and a rain of stones and pieces of asphalt from the pavement, two persons were killed outright and many wounded, of whom two died later. Two hundred intervened and restored order. Outside the capital one was killed and twelve wounded at Villa Oscilla, near Tampico, four killed in fighting at Vera Cruz and one killed at Cordoba.

DECLARATION IN DECEMBER

Actual count in the presidential race will not be known probably until early in December, when the returns are sent to the Chamber of Deputies for official canvass.

There was no doubt as to the outcome of the voting. Ortiz Rubio's headquarters claimed their candidate polled more than 1,000,000 votes. Headquarters of the Vasconcelistas tacitly admitted defeat, but claimed fraud and asserted Vasconcelos was the rightful President of Mexico.

London Also Liquidating In Bad Week

(By Thos. T. Champion, Canadian Press Correspondent)

London, Nov. 18.—Conditions were thoroughly unsettled throughout the week on the London Stock Exchange, for many reasons. In mid-week the position was as depressing as it has been for many weeks. Matters were brighter at the close of the week, but there seemed every reason to apprehend the course of the markets would continue to be governed by the movements in New York and some continental centres. The amount of domestic liquidation considered of late is not expected to diminish, though certain better-class securities have now reached such inviting figures that a stable basis may be looked for.

The British gilt-edged market stood up well against the general pessimism, and a marked improvement in the demand for this class of securities is generally expected, as soon as the great new conversion loan is cleared out of the way. The lists for this remained open the full time—that is, until the close of business Saturday.

The city is fairly optimistic as to the success of this operation, subscription being estimated at between $750,000,000 and $1,000,000,000. The acute weakness in the general market probably aided in the success of the loan.

The failure of the private banking firm of Horstman and Company due to heavy losses on the continent is not considered likely to have any wide repercussion here. The one failure notified on the Stock Exchange Saturday was not of extensive importance.

Credit Reports Show Business Conditions

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association Limited for week ending November 16, 1929, is as follows:

Halifax—An active volume is reported by wholesale and retail trade. Manufacturers are busy. Collections improving.

St. John—Wholesale trade good. Retail trade improving. Collections somewhat better.

Montreal—A satisfactory volume has been reported in all wholesale lines. The stock market depression has somewhat curtailed the sale of luxuries but has not otherwise affected trading. Collections: Wholesale very good; while retail very fair.

Saskatoon—Fair volume is reported by wholesalers. Retail trade in the city quiet; country very slow.

Edmonton — Particularly pleasant weather is having a depressing effect on many lines of trade. Collections a little better.

FALCONBRIDGE LIKELY TO DOUBLE SMELTER OUTPUT

Toronto, Nov. 18 (Solloway, Mills Service).—Treatment of 500 tons daily by Falconbridge mines before the end of 1930 is forecast by the building of the foundation already erected for an additional blast furance. Stepping up of the smelter from its initial capacity of 250 tons can thus be accomplished at short notice.

Stations are completed at the 1,000-feet level for diamond drill equipment and drilling will commence in a week's time. First pilot hole will be put down 100 feet north of the ore body in the hanging wall. Anticipating the general dip of the deposit, it is thought the drill should cut ore at a vertical depth of about 1,500 feet.

Underground development has progressed to such a point that actual production could be commenced at any time. Larger tonnage than indicated by diamond drill holes have been proven, and the deposits at the 350-foot level averages nearly seventy feet over its 800-foot length. The expectation is that ore from 1,000 feet, after hand-sorting, will grade five per cent combined metals, as development has shown an average of four per cent before sorting, slightly higher than the values given by diamond drill.

Last two successful drill holes on Amulet were 70 feet away from any other hole on each end of the "F" ore body, which has a northwest to southwest strike. This means that 140 feet of ore has been proven. It is expected that shaft sinking on this ore will be proposed.

REEVE CROUCH AGAIN SEEKS RE-ELECTION

to Ward Three during the last year. Competition for the office is assured with the announcement by friends of Chas. H. Williams and W. J. Lyon that these well known members of the Ratepayers' Association will be in the field for the councillorship.

Councillor Fred Borden in Ward One is expected to stand for another year. Councillor G. F. Watson of Ward Three has as yet made no announcement. Councillor Clarence Oldfield will meet his Ward Five Ratepayers' Association this week. Councillor L. Hagan will seek re-election in Ward Six, and Councillor Stanley Eden will again stand in Ward Seven.

Three seats on the School Board will become vacant at the close of this year with the termination of the terms of Chairman Frank V. Hobbs, Trustee Walter Jeune and J. L. Brooks. Trustee Brooks was elected last year for one year and has informed his friends that he will not seek re-election.

Trustee Hobbs refused to make any statement until the termination of his two-year office. Despite the fact that he has been president of the British Columbia Trustees Association, chairman of the board for many years, and has taken a major part in the preparation of $200,000 scheme of new buildings proposed to be submitted to the ratepayers, Mr. Hobbs refused to commit himself as a candidate.

Trustee Jeune has informed many of his friends that he will not seek re-election, but efforts are being made to ensure his reconsideration.

EARLY MORNING FIRE DESTROYS SIDNEY GARAGE

MODERN EQUIPMENT

E. L. McKenzie opened the service station in 1921. During the last three years many additions were made to maintain it as one of the finest garages on Vancouver Island.

The building was equipped with six fire extinguishers and the radio room was lined with gypsum plaster board to minimize the fire hazard.

LOSS IS $15,000

The fire was the second big outbreak in the business section of Sidney in less than two years, being directly across the street from the Berquist Block, destroyed January 12 of last year.

The British Columbia Electric Railway Company and the British Columbia Telephone Company were prompt in having their linemen on the scene to repair burned wires.

CHAPTER XIV

"You have no right to make such insinuations against Walter Styles!" Norma flamed. "He was only thinking of me— of my reputation in a gossipy boarding house. If anyone had discovered I was in Walter's room, so late at night, dressed as I was—"

"You did enter his room then?" Strawn interrupted, his voice gentle and placating again.

"Yes, I did!" We could hardly talk in the hall, with me crying as I was. But we left the door slightly ajar, and stood near it. We did not even sit down the whole time. I told him, because he urged me to, just what Mrs. Hogarth had said, about his asking her to lend him money for his business, and—and her wager that he wouldn't want to marry me after she had cut me out of her will—"

"And your fiance was very angry, of course?"

"Of course!" Norma agreed vehemently, then gasped as she realized the trend of the question. "He was certainly justified in being angry at Mrs. Hogarth's misunderstanding of his motives—"

"And he went to have a little quiet talk with her, to set her straight on his motives— Wait, Miss Paige! He crawled out of his window and walked along the upstairs porch to Mrs. Hogarth's room, entering by her window—"

"He did no such thing!" the girl almost screamed. "He didn't leave me for a single minute! We stood right by the door, talking in whispers. I don't know just how long we talked, but we both saw Mrs. Sharp go to the bathroom. She knocked and called my name, but of course I didn't answer, and she opened the door and went in. She must have seen my towel and soap there, for she went to my room then and knocked. Then she went back to the bathroom and took her bath, or I suppose she did, for she was in there long enough to bathe.

"We heard her turn the water on again, and then she came out and knocked at my door again. We heard her say, 'Your water's running, Norma.' Then she went into her room and when her door had closed, I ran across the hall and into the bathroom. I took my bath and had just gotten into bed when I heard someone knock on Mrs. Hogarth's door, or on some door. I thought it was Mrs. Hogarth's, but I didn't look out to make sure. About ten or fifteen minutes later a man and Mrs. Rhodes came to my door and told me that Mrs. Hogarth was dead. And that's absolutely all I know!"

Strawn regarded the quivering, white-faced girl through narrowed lids for a long minute, while Bonnie Dundee, behind the screen, had tremendous difficulty in suppressing an impulse to step out of hiding and tell her that he, at least, believed every word she had said. But of course not even she must know he was not merely the "new boarder," but a new detective as well, as ignorant of the truth of who killed Mrs. Hagarth as she was herself.

"Miss Paige," Strawn began slowly, "there is small doubt that Mrs. Hogarth was murdered and robbed during those minutes you say you spent with your fiance in his room. . . . No, wait, please! I am making no accusations. I merely want you to try very hard to remember if you heard or saw anything else while you stood near Mr. Styles's door, which was ajar, you say. I think it is due you to tell you that Mrs. Sharp's story corroborates yours in every way—as far as it goes. Now think! Did you hear or see anyone besides Mrs. Sharp during those minutes—approximately half an hour?"

The girl seemed pathetically relieved at his implied faith in her word. She drew a deep breath, then knit her brows in an effort to remember. "No," she said at last. "I saw no one at all. Of course, Walter and I were both afraid, and kept looking out of the door, but we saw no one."

"You can vouch for the fact that Mr. Sharp, for instance, did not come out of his room?"

"Oh, yes! I'm sure of that."

Dundee's quick mind took note of the fact that her earnest words had given Lawrence Sharp a perfect alibi. For the Sharps' room did not open upon a convenient upstairs porch, leading to Mrs. Hogarth's room. Their window was set in the west wall of the house, overlooking the driveway. Unless he had jumped from his second floor window to the ground below, and had then climbed the rose trellis at the west end of the porch, he could not possibly have gained access to the old woman's room. And Lawrence Sharp was no slim and agile youth.

"Did you hear anything—anyone?" Strawn persisted.

"No. Oh, yes, we did!" the girl corrected herself hastily. "One reason we talked in whispers was that we were afraid of Mr. Magnus hearing us. We knew he was in his room and awake, for he was typing nearly all the time. His room is next to Walter's, you know."

"Nearly all the time?" Strawn repeated. "Just how long a time was his machine silent?"

"Not nearly long enough for him to murder poor Mrs. Hogarth and search her room!" Norma flashed. "If that's what you're wondering! He was typing along steadily, as if he were copying something that had already been written. He said at dinner to-night—or rather, last night—that he was going to revise his story that had just been returned by a studio. Then while Mrs. Sharp was taking her bath, and I was just about to slip across to my own room, to be there in case she came to speak to me, he stopped, and Walter and I were scared to death he had heard us. I—I had become almost hysterical, because of Mrs. Sharp's looking for me, and my not being able to get back to my room, and—and everything, and we were afraid Bert—Mr. Magnus—had heard me crying, for he stopped typing for two or three minutes. We heard him moving about in his room, and for fear he might open his door and look out, I stayed in Walter's room until he began to type again."

"One more question, Miss Paige, please. Have you seen or talked with anyone since you returned to your room after taking your bath? Other than Mrs. Rhodes and Detective Payne, when they came to tell you of Mrs. Hogarth's death?"

"No, sir. No one at all."

The girl, dismissed at last, almost ran from the room, her hands groping before her as if she were blind with tears.

"Boyle!" Strawn bawled. "Tell Payne I want him. And when you see him leave, bring in Walter Styles."

"All right, Payne. I'm having Styles in now. Go over his room with a fine tooth comb."

Walter Styles, when he appeared, was wearing a rather handsome silk dressing gown over shirt and trousers. His brown hair was brushed meekly smooth and his light brown eyes were calm, but there was a betraying tightness about his mouth. Dundee knew that he was alert and anxious, having no idea how much or how little his sweetheart had been forced toteil.

After a few preliminary questions, Strawn asked abruptly: "Where were you between eleven and say ten minutes after twelve to-night, Styles?"

Alone?" Strawn asked, with apparent casualness.

Again the spasmodic jerking of a muscle. Then, calmly, "Yes, alone."

Dundee, behind the screen, felt an unwilling admiration for the man he already looked upon with jealous envy.

"Spoken like a gentleman, Mr. Styles," Strawn applauded dryly. "But it happens that Miss Paige, your fiancee, has already told me a different story. Now, I'd like your version of that story."

Walter Styles took a quick step toward the detective, his clenched fist upraised. "If you've been badgering and insulting Norma—" he began violently.

"You have a pretty hot temper, haven't you, Mr. Styles?" Strawn drawled. "You must remember that murder has been committed her to-night. Sit down and keep your fist to yourself, young man. . . . Now tell me exactly what you did between eleven o'clock last night and the time you were informed by Mrs. Rhodes and Detective Payne of Mrs. Hogarth's murder."

Walter Styles obeyed, speaking with a sort of furious calm. He began with Mrs. Hogarth's angry refusal to admit him to her room, along with Norma Paige; told of going to his own room and there awaiting word from Norma as to the result of her interview with Mrs. Hogarth; of Norma's coming into his room, at his request; of Mrs. Sharp's trips to the bathroom and to Norma's room; of Norma's departure to take her own delayed bath after Mrs. Sharp. He told the bare facts, enlarging upon them not at all, and Strawn silently heard him to the end.

"You were very angry with Mrs. Hogarth for her treatment of Miss Paige and because of the charges she had brought against you, were you not, Mr. Styles?" Strawn asked quietly, when the brief recital had ended.

"I was!"

Strawn stared at the unexpectedness of the admission, then he pounced: "Mr. Styles, did you leave your room at all during the times I have mentioned?"

"Yes—I did!"

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Funny House

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

Once upon a time Uncle Wiggily was hopping across a field where, in the summer, a farmer had planted corn. But it was now nearly winter in Woodland, where the rabbit gentleman lived in his hollow stump bungalow below the Orange Ice Mountains. And, being so close to winter, there was no green corn growing in the field.

The farmer had cut down the corn and had piled the stalks here and there in the field in bundles like tents. These bundles of corn-stalks were called "shocks," and were pointed in shape like the hat of a jolly old Hallowe'en witch, big at the bottom and pointed at the top.

"It looks," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, as he hopped across the corn field, "as if all these shocks were funny little houses where soldiers might be camping. I wonder if there is anyone in these queer corn houses?"

The rabbit gentleman looked first into one, then two and then three of the corn-stalk houses, as he hopped past. The dried stalks rustled in the wind and made Uncle Wiggily think of Thanksgiving and pumpkin pie and all things like that.

"Hello! Hello! Anybody home?" called the rabbit gentleman, as he poked his pink twinkling nose first into one funny corn house and then another. "Anybody home?"

But all he heard was the wind rustling in the dried corn-stalks.

"Nobody home, I guess," said Uncle Wiggily, "Yet these would be jolly little houses for the animal children to play in."

So he hopped on a little farther until all of a sudden it began to snow quite hard.

Now Uncle Wiggily didn't much mind the snow, for he wore a warm fur coat. But that day he happened to be wearing a new red necktie, and he didn't want to have any snowflakes fall on it. "Because," said the rabbit gentleman, "they might spot my red tie, and make it look like a polka-dot one, which I don't want. I wish I had an umbrella to keep the snowflakes off my red tie."

But he had no umbrella, neither did he have his lucky wishing stone in his pocket or he might have wished for one and, perhaps, have had it fly into his paw.

"So the next best thing to do," said Uncle Wiggily, "is to look for some place where I can go until this snowstorm is over. For I think it isn't going to last very long."

Well, he happened to be standing near one of the little corn houses, so he looked at it and seeing an opening between the stalks he said:

"I'll go in one of these funny little houses and wait until the snowstorm passes. No one lives in it, so it will be all right for me to go in."

No sooner said than done. Into the corn house hopped the rabbit gentleman, making the dried stalks rattle as if a strong wind were blowing them. And, once inside, Uncle Wiggily made himself comfortable by sitting down on a stone which happened to be in the middle of the ground floor of the place.

Then it grew very still and quiet inside and the only noise outside was the rustling of the wind and the tiny scratching sound of the snowflakes lightly falling on the cornstalks. Uncle Wiggily was almost asleep when, all of a sudden, he heard a noise inside the funny little house. Yes, indeed! Right inside!

"Ha! This is queer!" said Uncle Wiggily, suddenly rousing himself. "It sounds as is someone were in this house besides myself." He looked all around, but he could see no one. Then he listened and heard a voice saying:

"Who is it?" Before he could answer another voice said:

"I don't know who came in, but I'll look."

"See if it's anything good to eat!" spoke the first voice.

"Oh, my goodness!" thought the rabbit. "Can it be that there is a Bob Cat or a Fox living in this corn house? If so, I made a mistake by coming in, even to save my red necktie."

Uncle Wiggily was just going to jump out of the funny house, thinking it better to have the snow spoil his new tie than to have his ears nibbled when, all of a sudden, out from under a stalk crept a little field mouse lady.

"Oh, why it's Uncle Wiggily!" speaked the mouse.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the rabbit. "Was that you talking, Mrs. Mouse?"

"Yes, Uncle Wiggily. You see, I and my children live in this cornstalk house. One of my little ones heard you come in and, not knowing who it was, we thought it might be a Cat. But I'm glad it's you."

"Is it anything good to eat, Ma?" asked a little mouse boy.

Then Uncle Wiggily laughed and, having some peanuts in his pocket, gave them to the little mouse lad, who was glad to get them. Then, when the snowstorm was over, the rabbit hopped out of the funny house and went home. And if the salt will let the lump of sugar have a merry-go-round ride on the egg-beater, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily and the Gobble-up.

Are Modern Women Freer Than Their Grandmothers?

Dorothy Dix

Finds They Have Freedom Thrust Upon Them

"If Grandma Could Rise Up From the Coffin, Wouldn't She Hold Out Arms of Sympathy to Granddaughter and Sob Out That Pioneering Was Nothing Like This," Queries Dorothy Dix

WHEN the modern woman compares her lot with that of the women of the past, she is filled with congratulations for herself and compassion for her foremothers. She could weep tears of pity over poor, dear grandma, who had to espouse anything in trousers that came along because marriage was the only career open to a woman; who has to bring her children up by hand, so to speak, and who had no steam-heated house, no electric lights, no electric refrigerator, no vacuum cleaner, no patent dishwasher, no automobile, no delicatessen shops around the corner.

But, after all, has the woman of to-day an easier life than the woman of the past had? Wasn't it grandma who had the graft instead of granddaughter? And if grandma could rise up from her coffin wouldn't she hold out arms of sympathy to granddaughter and sob out that pioneering was nothing like this? True, the modern woman has pushed the door of opportunity wide open and is free to do anything from running for President to flying an airplane. She has achieved economic independence, but with the ability to support herself has come the necessity for doing so.

In grandma's time a father never dreamed of such a thing as not taking care of his daughters. Brothers felt obligated to look out for their sisters, and when a man got married he assumed his wife's board bill and shopping ticket. But as soon as the modern girl is through school, father and brother wash their hands of her and expect her to go to work and pay for her own flimsies. Even husbands are more and more demanding that their wives shall keep on with their jobs after they are married and be bread-earners as well as breadmakers.

When grandma got married she felt that she had, as the phrase went, settled herself for life. Of course, it was incumbent upon her to be a good wife and mother, to be thrifty and industrious, and to look well after the material wants of her family, but that was all.

Grandpa didn't expect her to be a siren who would keep him perpetually fascinated, nor a vaudeville team that would keep him amused and entertained and on his tiptoes to see what she would do next. She didn't have to compete in looks with the flappers in his office nor in charm with the gold-diggers who consider it a shame for a middle-aged man to waste his money on a mere wife. Divorce was almost an unheard-of thing among respectable people, and so grandma could slump down and take it easy, because she couldn't have lost grandpa if she had tried.

But marriage is no such sinecure to granddaughter. It isn't a permanent situation that she is sure of holding through life on good behavior. It is a precarious position in which she has to fight from the altar to the grave to hold her own, and even at that some vamp is likely to take her husband away from her and oust her from her position if he gets rich enough to make him a desirable prize.

Grandpa expected only that his wife should be chaste and domestic and amiable. Grandson demands that his wife shall be as discreet as Mrs. Caesar, cook like a chef, be so mild of temper that butter would not melt in her mouth and then that she shall be eternally young and beautiful, dress like a fashion plate, be a diplomat who will be able to handle him without riling him and be a miracle-worker who can keep him from ever getting tired and bored and looking at another woman. Probably grandpa strayed from the straight and narrow path as often as grandson does, but he didn't make grandma the custodian of his morals and blame his lapses in virtue on his wife, while grandson does.

Another great advantage that grandma had over granddaughter was that she could let nature take its course. She was under no compulsion to be beautiful, though homely, and to look thirty-five after she was sixty. In those halcyon days when a woman got fair, fat and forty, she was simply that, and no shame to her. She looked middle-aged and she dressed middle-aged and she acted middle-age and was comfortable and happy.

But granddaughter can indulge in no such luxury, for age has become a scandal, and a pound too much of flesh on a woman's body is more to be dreaded than a blemish on her character. So granddaughter goes through all the tortures of the inquisition in being permanently waved and pounded and stewed and starves herself into emaciation and agonizes around in stilt-heel shoes and makes a figure of fun of herself in clothes too young for her and wishes with all her heart and soul that she had the courage to be as old as she feels, as grandma did.

Most of all, grandma had the privilege of living in an age before anybody had discovered that children were a problem and when nobody had ever heard of child psychology and complexes and fixations an the danger of wrecking the lives of children by making them behave. Grandma spanked her children when they were bad and kissed them when they were good and fed them when they were hungry and taught them obedience and to fear God and do their duty, and they turned out the kind of men and women who were an honor to their parents and a credit to their country.

Grandmother may now and then have had a wayward son to worry over, but she didn't have to lose sleep over her daughters, for nice girls behaved nicely and caused their parents no anxiety. She didn't have to lie awake at night, as the modern mother does, with her heart torn with fear at the thought of what may be happening to her girls who have gone off in high-powered cars with boys with synthetic gin in their pockets and who won't come home until 3 o'clock in the morning and then tell her it is no business of her's where they have been or what they have done.

And so when the modern woman thinks of these things she thinks that maybe she is wasting her pity on grandma after all and that it was grandma who had the graft. Not she.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY

Savory stews and pot roasts are most acceptable for winter dinners. Cheap cuts of meat can be used to advantage and the finished dish is both appetizing and nourishing.

The success of such meat dishes depends on the careful seasoning and cooking of the meat. Greater skill and cleverness are required to prepare a delicious stew than to broil an expensive steak. The steak might be dubbed "fool-proof," for only the most villainous cooking could ruin it, while stewing meat and pot roasts must be treated with care and thought to make them popular.

In the case of stews, the vegetables are cooked with the meat and there is no waste of valuable mineral salts. The liquid in which both the meat and vegetables are cooked is served with the "stew." Beef, veal or lamb make delicious stews suitable for all members of a family. The liquid with sifted vegetables can be given to even the youngest person at the table. The stew proper, in all the glory of its meat and vegetables, will satisfy the hungry hunter or football player.

POT ROAST OF BEEF

Three or four-pound piece of lean beef cut from forequarter, 3 teaspoons salt, 1 large onion, 1 bay leaf, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 quart can tomatoes, ½ cup boiling water.

Trim fat from meat and try out in kettle. Pour off all surplus fat. Heat until very hot. Wipe meat with cloth wrung out of cold water. Put meat into kettle and sear quickly on all sides. Add remaining ingredients and simmer over a low fire until meat is tender. It will take at least three hours. Arrange meat on a hot platter and rub liquor in the pan through a strainer. Pour over meat and garnish with parsley.

There are innumerable ways to vary the roast. Potatoes and carrots can be cooked with the meat if the tomatoes are omitted. A brown gravy can be made with the liquid in the kettle.

The whole secret of a successful roast lies in the thorough seasoning of the entire surface of the meat before any liquid is added. This insures a rich brown gravy and roast.

Pastors Cross The Border For Goodwill Sunday

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—Recognizing a movement inaugurated a few years ago to stimulate international goodwill, twenty-two Canadian and United States ministers on the Pacific Coast exchanged pulpits Sunday, a number of congregations in Greater Vancouver listened to outstanding preachers from Washington and Oregon during the day.

The Sunday immediately after Armistice Day is acknowledged as International Goodwill Day, and elaborate arrangements were made this year to recognize this custom, which grew out of the post-war peace campaign.

A reception was held Saturday night by the committee which conducted a one-day conference here for the visiting United States ministers, when Mr. Smith from Bellingham, gave the address of the evening.

The jimson weed when exposed to the rays of radium for as short a time as ten minutes will develop seeds producing many new types of plants.

To-morrow's Horoscope

.... TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1929

Adverse aspects are strong to-day, according to astrology. The signs favor the few and seem to thwart the many.

Oil producers and those who benefit from trade in "liquid gold" are subject to the most promising and beneficial aspects.

New uses for gasoline will multiply in the coming year, it is foretold, to an extent seldom imagined by even the most sanguine persons.

This is not an auspicious day for aged persons or even for those not long past middle age. Falls and sudden seizures seem to be indicated.

While this configuration prevails many severe criticisms may be uttered and unkind judgment passed. The tongue should be wisely controlled.

Under this planetary government gossip will be prevalent, the seers foretell, and it will concern itself with men in public service.

Newspapers should be careful to avoid libel suits, for perils will assail the publishing of sensations foreseen by astrologers.

Care should be taken to give to foreign visitors the best impression of American citizenship, the seers declare, for many distinguished travelers will take notes in the next few months.

The moon to-day is in a sign supposed to impart ambition that is idealistic. The sway is especially fortunate for the young and for creative artists.

It is not a favorable direction of the stars under which to make a favorable impression on strangers and, for this reason, not altogether lucky for salesmen or promoters.

The late hours of the day may not be auspicious for entering into agreements or contracts.

It is not a fortunate day to take account of one's financial affairs, for banks and bankers may be exacting in making loans or in extending notes.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year that may bring many problems since Saturn has a strong influence. Accidents may be sustained in everyday activities.

Children born on this day probably will be devoted to parents, always kindly and homeloving. These Scorpio subjects also partake of Sagittarius characteristics and usually are determined and able to win success.

James A. Garfield, twentieth President of the United States, was born on this day, 1831. Others who have had this as a birthday were William C. Endicott, 1872, one-time secretary of war, and Thorwaldsen, 1770, famous sculptor.

PILOT MAKES ATTEMPT TO REACH SHIP

Intended to Hop Off From Nome For Trading Ship Nanuk, Ice Bound

Seattle, Nov. 18.—While Pilot Frank Dorbandt of the Alaska Airways Company was reported in dispatches from Nome, Alaska, last night as having intended to make an attempt to reach the fur trading ship Nanuk, icebound near North Cape, Siberia, to-day, no word of his activities had been received at a late hour to-night.

Absence of information was not considered significant, however, as communication with the northland is difficult.

Dorbandt has been storm bound at Teller, Alaska, for a week, while Pilot Carl Ben Eielson, his co-worker in the attempt to remove furs and passengers from the Nanuk, has been out of contact for several days.

Dorbandt message last night that he believed Eielson had taken refuge somewhere along the Siberian coast from the fierce storms which have been ravaging the North Cape area for more than a week. Eielson was well provided with food and shelter.

Included in the party aboard the Nanuk, owned by the Swenson Fur Company, are Olaf Swenson, head of the company, and his seventeen-year-old daughter, Marion, of Seattle. It was said that they and the wireless operator would be the last to leave the ship. Six of the party of fifteen originally aboard the fur trader have been brought out to Nome by the pilots.

Locked in the ice near the Nanuk is the Soviet vessel Starvropol, whose passengers and crew the aviators will also attempt to rescue.

Work Proceeding On Damaged Vessels In Esquimalt Harbor

Work is proceeding on repairs to the Princess Marguerite and the Princess Louise at the Esquimalt plant of Yarrow's Limited. The Louise will be released towards the end of this week.

The Princess Marguerite, which has been in the drydock for a week, will be floated out on Wednesday and taken to the outfitting wharf at Yarrow's Limited, where repairs will be completed. The Princess Louise will be put in the drydock for cleaning and painting towards the end of the week, before being turned over to her owners.

Passengers Drown When Ship Sinks

Mexico City, Nov. 18.—Several passengers and some of the crew of the freighter Villa Hermosa were said in reports to the Department of the Interior yesterday to have drowned. The ship sank Saturday night off Montana, Tabasco.

Two Orient Liners Made Port To-day

Empress of Asia and President Madison Make William Head Quarantine Station Within Few Hours of Each Other; Asia Docks at Ogden Point and President Madison at Rithet Piers; Both Had Light Passenger List and Average Cargoes.

Two large transpacific liners pulled into the outer docks at Victoria this morning—the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia and the American Mail liner President Madison, both of which arrived from ports in Japan, China and the Philippine Islands. The Empress of Asia berthed at the Ogden Point piers, while the President Madison docked at the Rithet piers.

The commanders of the two ships upon hearing that they were to dock in Victoria about the same time, pressed forward at all speed yesterday to see which ship would arrive here first. The President Madison left Yokohama two days earlier than the Empress of Asia and so had a lead all the way across the Pacific, with the Empress liner steadily gaining on her. The Madison passed Cape Flattery first and dropped anchor at the William Head quarantine station shortly after midnight this morning. Less than three hours later the Empress of Asia came in sight and also dropped anchor. At dawn the President Madison steamed away from quarantine and berthed at the Rithet piers at 5 o'clock, the Asia following shortly afterwards and proceeding to Ogden Point, where she docked at 6.30 o'clock. The Empress left for Vancouver at 8.30 o'clock and the President Madison left for Seattle at 10 o'clock. It is the first time for many months that two large liners have arrived together from the Orient.

LIGHT LISTS

Both ships were light as far as passengers were concerned, and the cargoes were only average. The Empress of Asia had 268 passengers in all classes, thirty-nine in the first cabin, fifty-seven in the second and the remainder in the third and steerage. The Madison had 181 passengers in both classes. Of these twelve left the ship at Victoria, the remainder proceeding to Seattle.

The President Madison had a large cargo for discharge here, there being 370 tons of general. The Empress of Asia left only seventy tons here. For Seattle the Madison had 2,199 tons, including 2,988 bales of raw silk, while the Empress of Asia had 2,250 tons, including 1,889 bales of raw silk.

GOOD VOYAGES

The commanders of both liners, Capt. A. J. Halley of the Empress of Asia and Capt. D. C. Austin of the President Madison reported exceptionally good trips across the Pacific for this time of the year. Very little rough weather was experienced, they said. There was a little snow just south of the Aleutian Islands.

Among the cabin passengers aboard the President Madison was Ben Annixter, president of the Dairy Delivery Corporation of San Francisco, returning from a tour around the world with his brother and his family.

On a combinationed business and pleasure trip to the United States, H. Dickinson and H. G. Freeman, connected with the Tobacco Trading Corporation, passed through Victoria today on the Madison.

En route to Washington, D.C., on official business, F. J. Waters, superintendent of schools for the Bureau of Education in the Philippine Islands, was another passenger aboard the liner.

Returning from a pleasure tour of the Orient was C. E. Gorton, retired president of the Lidgerwood-Gorton Company. He was accompanied by Mrs. Gorton.

Naval men aboard the Madison were Capt. C. L. Angeny, returning home on leave from duty in Philippine waters, and H. B. Sanford, chief pharmacist of the United States naval station at Cavite, on leave to the United States.

Other passengers aboard the ship were F. V. Chamberlain, Far Eastern representative for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company, on a business trip to this continent; Ward Goin, connected with M. Selkers and Company of Portland, returning from a business trip to the Orient; Dr. Lee S. Huizenga, a specialist in leprosy, returning from an extended study of leprosariums in the Far East; Miss Esther Hammell, on a vacation trip after working for five years in Japan as a missionary.

Around the Docks

Salmon Jumps Out of Water Into Rowboat

John MacLean, sleeping in his boat at the Goldstream Flats, at the head of the Saanich Arm on Saturday night heard splashing somewhere near his craft. He thought another boat was coming alongside his. So he got up to investigate. But there was no boat to be seen save his small tender. He was considerably alarmed and thought of all sorts of ghostly creatures. But he got some sleep, however, when the noise ceased, and in the morning he was still wondering what could have made the commotion, and then he found out. He spied a dead salmon lying in his tender. The fish had jumped out of the water during the night and landed in the boat, where it jumped about until it died!

D. D. MUNRO OF TERRACE DIES

Pioneer of Central British Columbia Succumbs at Toronto

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—Pioneers of central British Columbia lost another of their number yesterday with the death in Toronto of Duncan D. Munro of Terrace, former representative of the Provincial Land Settlement Board in the Bulkley Valley.

Mr. Munro, who has been in failing health for several months, resigned his provincial post in the interior in February and came to the coast. This fall he made a trip to Toronto, where a brother resides, and there the final illness overtook him.

After a youth spent in Stormont County, Ont., where he was born fifty-nine years ago, Mr. Munro came west in 1897. He first settled in Grand Forks, being engaged in the mercantile business there until 1910, when he moved to Terrace and became a farmer.

Throughout his residence in the interior Mr. Munro was one of the forces for co-operation among the farmers. He was one of the first directors of the Land Settlement Board, having been appointed in 1917. Later he became the board's representative and district agriculturist.

Fisheries Official Leaves For B.C. To Study Matters Here

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—W. A. Found, a deputy minister of fisheries, left yesterday for British Columbia, where he will spend several weeks going into all matters touching the administration of the fisheries in the Province by his department. In order that the whole fisheries situation in British Columbia may be gone into, Mr. Found will hold a conference in Vancouver December 3 with representatives of all branches of the fishing industry in the Province.

While in British Columbia, Mr. Found will also attend a meeting of the International Commission under the Pacific Halibut treaty.

That Was the End

A pretty young woman was being shown over a battleship by a junior officer. He was delighted with her. He thought he had never known such wit, such charm, and such intelligence embodied in one girl. And then she said: "I suppose when the tide rises you close the portholes?"

OLD GERMAN SHIPS SOLD

Capt. Barney Johnson and Associates of Vancouver Purchase Dollar Sailing Vessels

Seattle, Nov. 18.—Three former German sailing vessels that were prizes of war, including two that have been lying idle in Lake Union for the last seven years, Saturday were sold by the Robert Dollar Company to Vancouver interests, represented by Capt. Barney Johnson, and will end their days as barges.

The vessels are the full-rigged ships William Dollar and James Dollar, moored in Lake Union, and the Mae Dollar, now idle in San Francisco.

The vessels were seized by the Allies at the time of the World War and were purchased from the United States Government by the Robert Dollar Company. After a brief service for the Dollar Company the ships were laid up. Now they will be dismantled and converted into barges for service out of Vancouver, B.C.

The William Dollar arrived in Seattle April 28, 1922, from Shanghai, and the James Dollar from Yokohama August 20, 1922.

Both vessels have been idle in Lake Union ever since. The Mae Dollar's last voyage terminated with her arrival in San Francisco from Santa Rosalia, May 26, 1922.

The William Dollar was built at Dumbarton in 1902 and formerly was the Walkure. The James Dollar was built in Glasgow in 1901, and formerly was the Orotava. The Mae Dollar was built in Glasgow in 1892 and formerly was the Adolph Vinnen.

Estevan Makes Yuletide Visit To Lighthouse

On her annual Christmas supply trip to the lighthouses around Vancouver Island, the Dominion Government steamer Estevan will leave port on Wednesday morning for a month's trip that will take her right around the Island. She will proceed up the West Coast from Victoria and will return down the East Coast, thus completely circling the Island.

The Estevan is now at her berth at the Government wharf in the upper inner harbor, near the Johnson Street Bridge, loading supplies and gifts for the light keepers and their families. All the lonely outposts of the West Coast will be visited, and Christmas supplies left there. Boxes of miscellaneous presents are now being loaded on the decks of the Estevan containing gifts from well wishers in Victoria.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—The tug Storm King, which foundered in eight fathoms of water in the Oakland estuary some weeks ago, was raised through the combined efforts of a diver and a Red Stack salvage derrick yesterday and towed to the Moore Shipyards for repairs.

The Storm King developed a large leak in her hilge while berthed at the Robin Yards on the Alameda side of the estuary. When she was hauled out for her annual docking and overhaul the leak was not noticed and she sank midway to the dock. Theodore Wicks, diver, succeeded in patching up the hole after a week of work, and the Sea Salvor, the Red Stack salvage derrick, did the rest.

One of the largest single shipments of tractors was loaded yesterday on the Japanese freighter Montreal Maru, which is scheduled to leave this week for Japan. Thirty carloads, or approximately sixty-five tractors, will be swung into the holds of the freighter by a special loading crew.

Depere Crew Southbound After Wreck

Salvage King of Victoria Proceeding North and Is Due at Ketchikan To-morrow

The steamer Salvage King, of the Pacific Salvage Company, is expected to arrive at Ketchikan to-morrow morning, from where she will proceed to Port McArthur, about 300 miles north of that port, where the freighter Depere lies beached, following striking a rock late Friday night. The Salvage King left Victoria on Saturday at noon and is making good time up the coast. She was hired by the Alaska Salvage and Towing Company of Ketchikan, which firm has secured the contract for the salvaging of the Depere.

Ketchikan, Alaska, Nov. 18.—The coastguard cutter Cygan arrived yesterday with twenty-five officers and members of the crew of the steamer Depere, which struck on a rock near Cape Decision, Kuiu Island, Southeastern Alaska, Friday night and was later beached in a sinking condition near Port McArthur.

Among officers brought here by the Cygan were J. Johansen, pilot; George Kinnear, chief engineer; George Decker, second mate; Robert R. Stevens, third mate; George Parks, purser; Nels Christensen, first engineer; John Carlson, second engineer, and Wayne Davison, third engineer.

With the exception of George Kinnear, chief engineer, all those brought here will leave for Seattle on the next southbound boat. Kinnear will return to the wreck on the Salvage King, expected here to-morrow from Victoria, B.C. Captain John Newland and eight men remained on the ship.

The Depere struck at 6.55 p.m. Pacific time, and was beached an hour later, survivors said. Water was flooding the engine-room and the ship could not have been kept from sinking five minutes longer.
